MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Just a year ago I had the great honour and pleasure of making your acquaintance. Since then you have been the good Angel of my life. I came to you physically and mentally a wreck, indeed, almost in despair, but now by your Divine gifts of healing and intuition, Hope, Joy, and Peace have come to me. You made "the crooked straight and the rough places plain." Restored to health of mind and body I am full of happiness, and, I believe, useful to those around. All this I owe to you. May every blessing be yours. A lifetime of devotion cannot repay you. I echo the words of many when I say of Zuleika: "My God has sent His Angel and shut the lions' mouths." With deepest respect and gratitude.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I send you my little daughter; will you heal her of a terrible habit she has inherited? I trust her to your keeping. You saved my life twice. Save hers for me.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My business matters have proved most successful. Thanks for timely advice which saved the sinking ship.'
Originals can be seen at her office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

SHEPHERDS BUSH SPIRITUALISTS' SOCIETY, 73, BECKLOW ROAD, W.—On Sunday last, a capital address was given by Mr. Roddington, on 'The Progressive Stages of Religious Thought.' It was bright, instructive, and comprehensive, and the speaker showed that Spiritualism embodies all the highest teachings and conceptions of Christianity. On Sunday next, an 'Open' meeting; speakers invited.—J.P.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE ROAD, MARE STREET, N.E.—At last Sunday's meeting, Mr. Kinsman read the leading article in the current issue of 'LIGHT,' and was followed by Mrs. Spring, who gave very satisfactory clairvoyance and psychometry. On Sunday next, an inspirational address and clairvoyance will be given by Mr. A. Peters. On Thursday, a circle will be held for members at 226, Dalston-lane.—O.H.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last Mr. J. A. White gave several very successful clairvoyant descriptions, preceded by a brief address, in which, by an apt simile (that of a watch), the futility of isolated, non-harmonious conduct in society work was clearly shown, seeing that the higher intelligences are ever ready to supply the missing screw; self-abnegation being the best safeguard. On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., seasonable addresses will be delivered by our President and Vice-president, and music, vocal and instrumental, will be rendered. Our circle will be held on Mondays in the future, at 8 p.m., at 51, Bouverie-road.—Miss JOHNSTON, 81, Dunsinure-road, Cor. Sec.

MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Just a year ago I had the great honour and pleasure of making your acquaintance. Since then you have been the good Angel of my life. I came to you physically and mentally a wreck, indeed, almost in despair, but now by your Divine gifts of healing and intuition, Hope, Joy, and Peace have come to me. You made "the crooked straight and the rough places plain." Restored to health of mind and body I am full of happiness, and, I believe, useful to those around. All this I owe to you. May every blessing be yours. A lifetime of devotion cannot repay you. I echo the words of many when I say of Zuleika: "My God has sent His Angel and shut the lions' mouths." With deepest respect and gratitude.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I send you my little daughter; will you heal her of a terrible habit she has inherited? I trust her to your keeping. You saved my life twice. Save hers for me.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My business matters have proved most successful. Thanks for timely advice which saved the sinking ship.'

Originals can be seen at her office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

LONDON SPIRITUALISTS' CONFERENCE. MEETINGS AT MANOR PARK.—On Sunday last the weather did not permit our proposed open-air meeting being held. At our conference at 3 p.m., Mr. Morton, of Stratford, presided. The secretary's report of the previous conference was adopted. Delegates then reported the instructions they had received from their societies regarding the proposed union of London Spiritualists and societies, and the details were considered point by point, and corrected and amended as was considered necessary. In effect the delegates accepted the recommendations of the committee as to the basis of union. The constitution as a whole was then dealt with, and the following delegates voted, viz., Mr. Gwinn, Manor Park; Mr. Knowles, Braemar-road, Plaistow; Mr. Brooks, Hackney; Mr. Penfold, Battersea; Mr. Renfree, Martin-street, Stratford. The first four voted for the union, and Mr. Renfree did not vote. Tea had been prepared by our Manor Park friends. Mr. Roberts presided at the evening meeting, and Messrs. Penfold, Clegg, and H. Brook, and Mrs. Roberts delivered addresses with good effect.—M. CLEGG, Secretary.

MIDLAND SPIRITUAL TRACT ENTERPRISE.—The result of this endeavour is encouraging, though I had hoped for better things. Ninety-eight towns have been reached and 8,000 tracts distributed. The seed has been sown, and we must wait for the harvest. To those who have engaged in this work I would say: 'Be not weary.' Cases, as before, three-pence; double cases, containing eight 'Letters to an Orthodox Friend,' by Mr. W. Phillips, sixpence, post free. The successful prize-winners for the largest number distributed are Mr. A. R. Siddals, Burton; Mr. W. H. Lote, Derby; Mrs. Gibbs, Plaistow; Mr. Jacques, Manchester; Mrs. Harris, Radcliffe; Mr. R. Fryer, Radcliffe; Mr. W. Link, Natal; Mrs. Clarke, Notts; Mrs. K. T. Robinson, Manchester; Mrs. W. Acton, Brighton.—BEVAN HARRIS, Radcliffe-on-Trent.

MODERN . . .
ASTROLOGY.

OF ANY

ASTROLOGICAL MAGAZINE.

ESTABLISHED 1890. EDITED BY ALAN LEO, P.A.S.

'Modern Astrology' is published on the first of each month at One Shilling monthly, and may be ordered through all booksellers, or obtained post free for 1s. 2d. from the Editorial Office, 9, Lyncroft-gardens, West Hampstead, N.W. It is the most unique and original magazine dealing with the science of the stars and human destiny ever published.

The present Volume contains a new series of SIMPLE LESSONS, explaining and illustrating Astrology WITHOUT any MATHEMATICAL CALCULATIONS, so that everyone may understand them, entitled—

'ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.'

The contents are always interesting, dealing with remarkable horoscopes, lucky and unlucky days, the value of stones, gems, talismans, and esoteric Astrology.

Occult Astrology shows what psychic gifts or latent powers you possess. It teaches the law of evolution and the growth of the Soul, and it is invaluable in the guidance and training of children.

A sample copy of the present Volume will be sent post free on receipt of six stamps, so that you may judge of its value, in which will be enclosed full particulars of Predictive Astrology.

THE BOOK OF THE SEASON.

REINCARNATION or IMMORTALITY?

BY URSULA N. GESTEFELD.

Author of 'How We Master Our Fate.'

A valuable and timely book. The failure of dogmatic Theology to answer satisfactorily the universal query, 'Whence come I? Whither do I go?' has awakened a new interest in the Eastern teaching of Reincarnation, has caused a strong tendency to apply its principles to Western life and ideals. In this the gifted author's latest work the truths of this teaching are clearly and vividly portrayed—its errors, both in teaching and application, plainly shown. It is the first work to offer valid and consistent objections to the strong arguments advanced by Reincarnationists in support of that theory. Void of assertion, all arguments presented are logical deductions from a stated premise. To the many looking for 'more light,' who accept the theory of Reincarnation in lieu of a better as explaining many of the problems of human existence, this book will be welcome—will prove a valuable guide and counsellor.

Beautifully bound in cloth and gold. Price 4s. 6d.

European Agent—MR. G. OSBOND, Scientist House, DEVONPORT, DEVON.

MADAME ZULEIKA,
Psychologist and Occultist,
113, NEW BOND STREET, W.

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Just a year ago I had the great honour and pleasure of making your acquaintance. Since then you have been the good Angel of my life. I came to you physically and mentally a wreck, indeed, almost in despair, but now by your Divine gifts of healing and intuition, Hope, Joy, and Peace have come to me. You made "the crooked straight and the rough places plain." Restored to health of mind and body I am full of happiness, and, I believe, useful to those around. All this I owe to you. May every blessing be yours. A lifetime of devotion cannot repay you. I echo the words of many when I say of Zuleika: "My God has sent His Angel and shut the lions' mouths." With deepest respect and gratitude.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I send you my little daughter; will you heal her of a terrible habit she has inherited? I trust her to your keeping. You saved my life twice. Save hers for me.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My business matters have proved most successful. Thanks for timely advice which saved the sinking ship. Originals can be seen at her office.'

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and tickery everywhere rampant.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—Mr. Alfred Peters was never heard to greater advantage than at these rooms on Sunday last. His short address was useful and inspiring—full of good advice, so heartily and naturally proffered that he quickly won the attention and interest of his audience. Good conditions were thus promoted and sustained. The twenty-six clairvoyant descriptions which followed were accompanied with numerous striking details that were exceptionally convincing, and there were but two or three which were not remembered at the time. Mr. Peters, who kindly occupied the platform in place of Miss MacCreddie, will during the year, we are pleased to say, assist the Marylebone Association of Spiritualists when possible. The singing of 'Summerland' (W. Acfield) by the choir was greatly appreciated. We rejoice to know that our good worker Miss MacCreddie is now much better, and all are hoping to hear her again at these rooms. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mrs. M. H. Wallis will deliver an inspirational address and give clairvoyance.—L. H.

A WANDERER IN THE SPIRIT LANDS.
The Strange Story of a Soul's Experiences after Death.

PRESS NOTICES.

'The book before us seems to be terribly in earnest, and in earnest with a deep thoughtfulness and moral fervour, which makes the suggestion of pretence horrible. . . . In any case it is a very powerful book, abounding in great thoughts and subtle suggestions. . . . 'LIGHT'

'The reader can find plenty to interest him in its pages.'—'Borderland'

'A very graphic description of the spirit world.'—'Spiritual Review'

'The memoirs of a ghost, as one might fittingly call "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands," is a cleverly imagined romance of the unseen world. Especially thrilling is the first condition of the soul after death. There we are conducted with the soul in its wanderings from sphere to sphere, its repentance, elevation, and its visits as a missionary among the spirits in Hell. In this part of the work the writer has combined deftly the materialistic and the allegorical view of the place of lost souls. Only he works it out that the souls are not lost for ever, but are kept in a punitive condition until their hearts are softened into repentance. Whatever view may be taken of it, it is certainly a work with a deeply moral and religious influence. It is, in short, the sort of work calculated to excite disgust for evil and draw the reader nearer to the good.'—'Sheffield Daily Telegraph'

'The work throughout gives evidences of great originality, imagination, and power of expression. The curious idea of choosing for the hero a character whose career is traced after a few introductory pages entirely in a sphere beyond the grave would have deterred many from the attempt, which, though difficult, has been achieved in a deeply interesting manner. . . . The book is certainly one of the most powerfully written vindications of Spiritualism which have yet appeared.'—'Gentlewoman'

LIFE BEYOND DEATH.

Being a Review of the World's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as to Whether it can be Demonstrated as a Fact.

To Which is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions

By Minot J. Savage, D.D.

After a review of the beliefs held in the past concerning life beyond death, Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and considered the agnostic reaction from the extreme 'other-worldliness' which it replaced, which was in turn followed by the spiritualistic reaction against agnosticism. The volume includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and also an appendix giving some of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage holds,
as a provisional hypothesis, that continued existence is demonstrated,
and that there have been at least some well-authenticated communications from persons in the other life.

CONTENTS: Primitive Ideas—Ethnic Beliefs—The Old Testament
and Immortality—Paul's Doctrine of Death and the Other Life—Jesus
and Immortality—The Other World and the Middle Ages—Protestant
Belief Concerning Death and the Life Beyond—The Agnostic Reaction—
The Spiritualistic Reaction—The World's Condition and Needs as to
Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration

MADAME ZULEIKA, Psychologist and Occultist, 113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Just a year ago I had the great honour and pleasure of making your acquaintance. Since then you have been the good Angel of my life. I came to you physically and mentally a wreck, indeed, almost in despair, but now by your Divine gifts of healing and intuition, Hope, Joy, and Peace have come to me. You made "the crooked straight and the rough places plain." Restored to health of mind and body I am full of happiness, and, I believe, useful to those around.
All this I owe to you. May every blessing be yours. A lifetime of devotion cannot repay you. I echo the words of many when I say of Zuleika: "My God has sent His Angel and shut the lions' mouths."
With deepest respect and gratitude.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I send you my little daughter; will you beal her of a terrible habit she has inherited? I trust her to your keeping. You saved my life twice. Save hers for me.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My business matters have proved most successful. Thanks for timely advice which saved the sinking ship.
Originals can be seen at her office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

A WANDERER IN THE . . . SPIRIT LANDS

The Strange Story of a Soul's Experiences after Death.

PRESS NOTICES.

'The book before us seems to be terribly in earnest, and in earnest with a deep thoughtfulness and moral fervour, which makes the suggestion of pretence horrible. . . . In any case it is a very powerful book, abounding in great thoughts and subtle suggestions. . . . 'LIGHT.'

'The reader can find plenty to interest him in its pages.'—'Borderland.'

'A very graphic description of the spirit world.'—'Spiritual Review.'

'The memoirs of a ghost, as one might fittingly call "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands," is a cleverly imagined romance of the unseen world. Especially thrilling is the first condition of the soul after death. There we are conducted with the soul in its wanderings from sphere to sphere: its repentance, elevation, and its visits as a missionary among the lost spirits in Hell. In this part of the work the writer has combined deftly the materialistic and the allegorical view of the place of lost souls. Only he works it out that the souls are not lost for ever, but are kept in a punitive condition until their hearts are softened into repentance. Whatever view may be taken of it, it is certainly a work with a deeply moral and religious influence. It is, in short, the sort of work calculated to excite disgust for evil and draw the reader nearer to the good.'—'Sheffield Daily Telegraph.'

'The work throughout gives evidences of great originality, imagination, and power of expression. The curious idea of choosing for the hero a character whose career is traced after a few introductory pages entirely in a sphere beyond the grave would have deterred many from the attempt, which, though difficult, has been achieved in a deeply interesting manner. . . . The book is certainly one of the most powerfully written vindications of Spiritualism which have yet appeared.'—'Gentlewoman.'

MADAME ZULEIKA, Psychologist and Occultist, 113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika.—Just a year ago I had the great honour and pleasure of making your acquaintance. Since then you have been the good Angel of my life. I came to you physically and mentally a wreck, indeed, almost in despair, but now by your Divine gifts of healing and intuition, Hope, Joy, and Peace have come to me. You made "the crooked straight and the rough places plain." Restored to health of mind and body I am full of happiness, and, I believe, useful to those around. All this I owe to you. May every blessing be yours. A lifetime of devotion cannot repay you. I echo the words of many when I say of Zuleika: "My God has sent His Angel and shut the lions' mouths." With deepest respect and gratitude.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika.—I send you my little daughter; will you heal her of a terrible habit she has inherited? I trust her to your keeping. You saved my life twice. Save hers for me.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika.—My business matters have proved most successful. Thanks for timely advice which saved the sinking ship. Originals can be seen at her office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

STRATFORD, WORKMAN'S HALL.—On Sunday next, February 4th, at 3 p.m., Mr. W. J. Colville's subject will be: 'True Relations of Spiritualism and Socialism.' On February 5th, at 8 p.m., farewell meeting, before departure for Australia, at 99, Gower-street, W.C.

BARRY SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, DOCK VIEW-ROAD, BARRY DOCK.—On Sunday last an old opponent, but now a brave worker in the cause, Mr. E. S. G. Mayo, of Cardiff, visited us for the first time and gave a powerful and touching trance address on 'A Message of Consolation,' which was highly appreciated. Mr. Mayo will undoubtedly prove as doughty a champion for us as he has been against us in the past.—E. J. T.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE-ROAD, MARE-STREET, N.E.—Mr. D. J. Davis, who addressed the meeting on Sunday last, claimed that the movement needed, to-day, men of conviction, who would be absolutely certain of their facts and would then present those facts to others in a spirit of charity. Mr. Morse's lantern lecture on Friday evening attracted a goodly number (mostly strangers) to the Millfields-road Board School, where for some two hours they were unmistakably interested by the lecturer's recital of the growth of the Spiritualist movement. On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., address and clairvoyance by Mr. Alfred Peters. On Thursday next, at 8 p.m., members' circle, at 226, Dalston-lane.—J.K.

CORDEN HALL, NOTTINGHAM.—Discoursing on Sunday last upon 'Personal Influence,' Mr. Ernest Marklew called attention to the powers which all may silently exert upon others, either for good or evil. The opportunity, for which so many are waiting, "to do some great work" seems to overshadow the fact that what is apparently so difficult may be effected in another way, in the quietude of our private life. The power of the human will is almost boundless, and when rightly directed it will effect important changes in those with whom we are brought into contact. In the afternoon it was arranged to meet the Economic Debating Society for a friendly discussion of the proposition that 'Spiritualism is an efficient guide to a truly moral life.' Mr. Marklew, in an affirmative address, set forth such an array of evidence that he seemed to disarm nearly all opposition. Nine questions were propounded, and answered to the general satisfaction of the meeting. The chairman (Mr. Corby) invited discussion, but the sweet reasonableness of Mr. Marklew's address had taken almost all the fight out of our erstwhile opponents, and only two real champions could be found on the opposition side. Another gentleman spoke, denying the proposition that 'Self-preservation is the first law of Nature,' and affirming that 'Self-realisation' was the first of Nature's laws. Replying to the first speaker's statement that he had not produced any incontrovertible evidence of the truth of the alleged facts of spiritualistic phenomena, Mr. Marklew pointed out that in all other matters of daily life any statement which could be borne out by the confirmatory evidence of several witnesses was accepted as fact and so received. The same thing applied to the spiritual case. When one returning spirit makes a statement that such and such is their experience of the other life, and the same information is brought by numerous other spirits, and all are in agreement, we are compelled to believe that what they allege is true. Other points of an interesting character were satisfactorily dealt with by Mr. Marklew, who, in closing, expressed the pleasure it had been to him to take the part he had in that meeting, and offering at some future time, if desirable, to renew so pleasant an association. Mr. Hanson G. Hey, of Halifax (who was filling an engagement with the other society in Nottingham), also spoke with marked effect for the support of the proposition. In the evening, Mr. Marklew dealt very efficiently with eight questions from the audience.—J.C.

LIFE BEYOND DEATH.

Being a Review of the World's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as to Whether it can be Demonstrated as a Fact.

To Which is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions

By Minot J. Savage, D.D.

After a review of the beliefs held in the past concerning life beyond death, Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and considers the agnostic reaction from the extreme 'other-worldliness' which it replaced, which was in turn followed by the spiritualistic reaction against agnosticism. The volume includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and also an appendix giving some of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage holds, as a provisional hypothesis, that continued existence is demonstrated, and that there have been at least some well-authenticated communications from persons in the other life.

A WANDERER IN THE
SPIRIT LANDS.

The Strange Story of a Soul's Experiences after Death.

PRESS NOTICES.

'The book before us seems to be terribly in earnest, and in earnest with a deep thoughtfulness and moral fervour, which makes the suggestion of pretence horrible. . . . In any case it is a very powerful book, abounding in great thoughts and subtle suggestions. . . . 'LIGHT.'

'The reader can find plenty to interest him in its pages.'—'Borderland.'

'A very graphic description of the spirit world.'—'Spiritual Review.'

'The memoirs of a ghost, as one might fittingly call "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands," is a cleverly imagined romance of the unseen world. Especially thrilling is the first condition of the soul after death. There we are conducted with the soul in its wanderings from sphere to sphere; its repentance, elevation, and its visits as a missionary among the lost spirits in Hell. In this part of the work the writer has combined deftly the materialistic and the allegoric view of the place of lost souls. Only he works it out that the souls are not lost for ever, but are kept in a punitive condition until their hearts are softened into repentance. What ever view may be taken of it, it is certainly a work with a deeply moral and religious influence. It is, in short, the sort of work calculated to excite disgust for evil and draw the reader nearer to the good.'—'Sheffield Daily Telegraph.'

'The work throughout gives evidences of great originality, imagination, and power of expression. The curious idea of choosing for the hero a character whose career is traced after a few introductory pages entirely in a sphere beyond the grave would have deterred many from the attempt, which, though difficult, has been achieved in a deeply interesting manner. . . . The book is certainly one of the most powerfully written vindications of Spiritualism which have yet appeared.'—'Gentlewoman.'

LIFE BEYOND DEATH.

Being a Review of the World's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as to Whether it can be Demonstrated as a Fact.

To Which is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions

By Minot J. Savage, D.D.

After a review of the beliefs held in the past concerning life beyond death, Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and consider the agnostic reaction from the extreme 'other-worldliness' which it replaced, which was in turn followed by the spiritualistic reaction against agnosticism. The volume includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and also an appendix giving some of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage holds,
as a provisional hypothesis, that continued existence is demonstrated,
and that there have been at least some well-authenticated communications from persons in the other life.

CONTENTS: Primitive Ideas—Ethnic Beliefs—The Old Testament
and Immortality—Paul's Doctrine of Death and the Other Life—Jesus
and Immortality—The Other World and the Middle Ages—Protestant
Belief Concerning Death and the Life Beyond—The Agnostic Reaction—
The Spiritualistic Reaction—The World's Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration
—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortal Life—Possible
Conditions of Another Life—Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions.

What is Chromoscopy or Colnumero Psychometry?

ANSWER.—The Astounding DISCOVERY OF SPHAERA, which enables him, from COLOURS AND NUMBERS, to tell the

to develop the PSYCHICAL POWERS of young and old alike,

MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Just a year ago I had the great honour and pleasure of making your acquaintance. Since then you have been the good Angel of my life. I came to you physically and mentally a wreck, indeed, almost in despair, but now by your Divine gifts of healing and intuition, Hope, Joy, and Peace have come to me. You made "the crooked straight and the rough places plain." Restored to health of mind and body I am full of happiness, and, I believe, useful to those around.
All this I owe to you. May every blessing be yours. A lifetime of devotion cannot repay you. I echo the words of many when I say of Zuleika: "My God has sent His Angel and shut the lions' mouths,"
With deepest respect and gratitude.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I send you my little daughter; will you heal her of a terrible habit she has inherited? I trust her to your keep-
ing. You saved my life twice. Save hers for me.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My business matters have proved most successful. Thanks for timely advice which saved the sinking ship.
Originals can be seen at her office.'

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

Its purpose is distinctly practical. It is most fascinatingly written, and deserves the remarkable success it has achieved.—'The Review of Reviews.'

A WANDERER IN THE
... SPIRIT LANDS

The Strange Story of a Soul's Experiences after Death.

PRESS NOTICES.

'The book before us seems to be terribly in earnest, and in earnest with a deep thoughtfulness and moral fervour, which makes the suggestion of pretence horrible. . . . In any case it is a very powerful book, abounding in great thoughts and subtle suggestions. . . . 'LIGHT.'

'The reader can find plenty to interest him in its pages.'—Borderland

'A very graphic description of the spirit world.'—Spiritual Review

'The memoirs of a ghost, as one might fittingly call "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands," is a cleverly imagined romance of the unseen world. Especially thrilling is the first condition of the soul after death. . . . we are conducted with the soul in its wanderings from sphere to sphere, its repentance, elevation, and its visits as a missionary among the lost spirits in Hell. In this part of the work the writer has combined details of the materialistic and the allegorical view of the place of lost souls. Only he works it out that the souls are not lost for ever, but are kept in a punitive condition until their hearts are softened into repentance. . . . ever view may be taken of it, it is certainly a work with a deeply moral and religious influence. It is, in short, the sort of work calculated to excite disgust for evil and draw the reader nearer to the good.'—Sheffield Daily Telegraph.

'The work throughout gives evidences of great originality, imagination, and power of expression. The curious idea of choosing for the hero a character whose career is traced after a few introductory pages entirely in a sphere beyond the grave would have deterred many from the attempt, which, though difficult, has been achieved in a deeply interesting manner. . . . The book is certainly one of the most powerfully written vindications of Spiritualism which have yet appeared.'—Gentlewoman.

MADAME ZULEIKA,
Psychologist and Occultist,
113, NEW BOND STREET, W.

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—By your wonderful power of seeing into the future you saved me from taking the voyage by the steamer Stella that I had planned, and which was wrecked with such fearful loss of life off the Channel Islands.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Business matters are being offered to me exactly in the way you said to me they would be. I cannot close this letter without expressing my surprise at what you can see in the future.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—May I once again ask you to work your wonderful power to aid me?'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—The debt I owe to you is invaluable. I should never have been able to do anything without you. Indeed, my whole heart and soul is always filled with a great warm gratitude towards you. All good to you and yours.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I am able to think of little else than your wonderful gift. This morning's experience was a revelation. I am only regretful I did not meet you sooner. Will you be my guide through life?'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—You have given me a new life, new energy, new thoughts, and put me into smooth waters. I do not like to think that in future years I may pass completely out of your life and never hear from you again, for I cannot tell you what your help has been to me.'

'TESTIMONIAL.—I certify that through Madame Zuleika's wonderful power a "Will" which had been lost for seventeen years was found.'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MOETIMER-STREET, W.—Another interesting and useful meeting was held at these rooms on Sunday last, when Miss MacCreadie occupied the platform. Twenty-one clairvoyant descriptions were given, and ere the meeting dispersed fourteen spirit people had been recognised. Some of the descriptions were particularly accurate, and all were, as is usual with our good worker and her (and our) spirit helper 'Sunshine,' carefully given. The audience were most attentive and appreciative, warmly welcoming the successful efforts of our friends. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. E. W. Wallis will give a trance address upon 'The Spirit of Spiritualism.' Doors open at 6.30 p.m.—L. H.

DUNDEE.—UPPER GILFILLAN HALL.—The third annual meeting of the Dundee Society of Spiritualists was held on Wednesday, February 7th, Mr. James Stevenson presiding. Mr. James Watson read the report of the committee. The society had made no loud or flaring demonstrations. Its proceedings had been quiet, steady, and regular; but, though comparatively silent and unobtrusive, its influence had been none the less effective, and the results would be none the less deep and permanent. Though the society could not boast of having a large membership nor of occupying a prominent position in the community, its power to stimulate thought and relieve inquiring minds was growing, and was assisting the spirit world in its efforts to uplift and purify humanity. The report was unanimously adopted, and the office-bearers were appointed for the current year.—Dundee Advertiser.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday, February 4th, Mr. J. A. White gave an address on 'Medium' and 'Control,' giving a most interesting and instructive explanation of these terms. He followed it with a series of very successful and accurate clairvoyant descriptions, mostly of a marked character. On Sunday last Mr. H. Brooks, of the Hackney Society of Spiritualists, in the absence of our president, Mr. E. Whyte, received respectful and appreciative attention in his handling of the subject 'Individual Philosophy,' urging self-culture and the evolution of the higher capabilities of spiritual nature in each individual. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. Alfred Peters will give an address and clairvoyance; and for Wednesday, the 21st inst., at 8 p.m., an attractive social and dance is being organised. (See advertisement.) The recent concert having been so successful, we reasonably anticipate an overflow of patronage from friends and the public on this occasion, and the encouragement of a generous voluntary silver contribution.—Miss JOHNSTON, Corresponding Secretary, 81, Dunsmuir-road, N.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, BATTERSEA PARK-ROAD.—On Sunday last we had a very interesting address by Mrs. Lewis on 'The Happy Condition of a Mental Healer,' followed by answers to questions. On Thursday last Mr. J. J. Morse's guides gave a splendid address on 'Modern Spiritualism the Natural Religion,' showing that as man is essentially a natural being, he needs a natural religion, and that Spiritualism being in accordance with the laws of Nature, having nothing supernatural in it, supplies that need. Death is due to the operation of Nature's laws, and is the bridge between mortality and immortality. Spiritualism, through its phenomena, affords the world the only present-day evidence that man lives after death. In listening to such an address one realises most forcibly the truth of the speaker's words, that 'there is no more important question than "If a man die shall he live again?"' and in answering this question Spiritualism indeed brings a blessing to mankind. On Sunday next, at 11.30 a.m., public discussion; at 3 p.m., Lyceum meeting; at 7 p.m., Mrs. Stannard will address the meeting. Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope. Thursday, at 8 p.m., public circle. Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., a social evening for members and friends.—YULE.

Being a Review of the World's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as to Whether it can be Demonstrated as a Fact.

To Which is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions.

By Minot J. Savage, D.D.

After a review of the beliefs held in the past concerning life beyond death, Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and considers the agnostic reaction from the extreme 'other-worldliness' which it replaced, which was in turn followed by the spiritualistic reaction against agnosticism. The volume includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and also an appendix giving some of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage holds, as a provisional hypothesis, that continued existence is demonstrated, and that there have been at least some well-authenticated communications from persons in the other life.

CONTENTS: Primitive Ideas—Ethnic Beliefs—The Old Testament and Immortality—Paul's Doctrine of Death and the Other Life—Jesus and Immortality—The Other World and the Middle Ages—Protestant Belief Concerning Death and the Life Beyond—The Agnostic Reaction—The Spiritualistic Reaction—The World's Condition and Needs as to Belief in Immortality—Probabilities which Fall Short of Demonstration—The Society for Psychical Research and the Immortal Life—Possible Conditions of Another Life—Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions.

A WANDERER IN THE
SPIRIT LANDS.

The Strange Story of a Soul's Experiences after Death.

PRESS NOTICES.

'The book before us seems to be terribly in earnest, and in earnest with a deep thoughtfulness and moral fervour, which makes the suggestion of pretence horrible. . . . In any case it is a very powerful book, abounding in great thoughts and subtle suggestions. . . .
'LIGHT.'

'The reader can find plenty to interest him in its pages.'—'Borderland.'

'A very graphic description of the spirit world.'—'Spiritual Review.'

'The memoirs of a ghost, as one might fittingly call "A Wanderer in the Spirit Lands," is a cleverly imagined romance of the unseen world. Especially thrilling is the first condition of the soul after death. There we are conducted with the soul in its wanderings from sphere to sphere, its repentance, elevation, and its visits as a missionary among the lost spirits in Hell. In this part of the work the writer has combined deftly the materialistic and the allegorical view of the place of lost souls. Only he works it out that the souls are not lost for ever, but are kept in a punitive condition until their hearts are softened into repentance. What ever view may be taken of it, it is certainly a work with a deeply moral and religious influence. It is, in short, the sort of work calculated to excite disgust for evil and draw the reader nearer to the good.'—'Sheffield Daily Telegraph.'

'The work throughout gives evidences of great originality, imagination, and power of expression. The curious idea of choosing for the hero a character whose career is traced after a few introductory pages entirely in a sphere beyond the grave would have deterred many from the attempt, which, though difficult, has been achieved in a deeply interesting manner. . . . The book is certainly one of the most powerfully written vindications of Spiritualism which have yet appeared.'—'Gentlewoman.'

MADAME ZULEIKA, Psychologist and Occultist, 113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—By your wonderful power of seeing into the future you saved me from taking the voyage by the steamer Stella that I had planned, and which was wrecked with such fearful loss of life off the Channel Islands.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Business matters are being offered to me exactly in the way you said to me they would be. I cannot close this letter without expressing my surprise at what you can see in the future.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—May I once again ask you to work your wonderful power to aid me?'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—The debt I owe to you is invaluable. I should never have been able to do anything without you. Indeed, my whole heart and soul is always filled with a great warm gratitude towards you. All good to you and yours.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—I am able to think of little else than your wonderful gift. This morning's experience was a revelation. I am only regretful I did not meet you sooner. Will you be my guide through life?'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—You have given me a new life, new energy, new thoughts, and put me into smooth waters. I do not like to think that in future years I may pass completely out of your life and never hear from you again, for I cannot tell you what your help has been to me.'

'TESTIMONIAL.—I certify that through Madame Zuleika's wonderful power a "Will" which had been lost for seventeen years was found.'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

LIFE BEYOND DEATH.

Being a Review of the World's Beliefs on the Subject, a Consideration of Present Conditions of Thought and Feeling, Leading to the Question as to Whether it can be Demonstrated as a Fact.

To Which is Added an Appendix Containing Some Hints as to Personal Experiences and Opinions.

By Minot J. Savage, D.D.

After a review of the beliefs held in the past concerning life beyond death, Dr. Savage takes up the present conditions of belief and considers the agnostic reaction from the extreme 'other-worldliness' which it replaced, which was in turn followed by the spiritualistic reaction against agnosticism. The volume includes a consideration of the work of the Society for Psychical Research and also an appendix giving some of the author's own personal experiences in this line. Dr. Savage holds, as a provisional hypothesis, that continued existence is demonstrated, and that there have been at least some well-authenticated communications from persons in the other life.

MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Please keep me in your mind all the time I am away; your power has saved me twice from committing a great error in business matters; had I written the letter you warned me not to, I should have been poorer to-day by £2,000. God bless you!—Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My bosom friend came to you a week or two ago, and has written in glowing terms of her interview.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—To hear from a stranger such loving words of guidance and sympathy so took me by surprise that I forgot to thank you for the use you made of your wonderful gift in giving me just the help I needed. I am so much happier, and now see the rocks I might have been shattered upon. My eyes seem to have been closed till now.—
Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Friend,—It was as you said it would be when I got home; the matter blew over; there was "no law," as you so wonderfully predicted, and the letter you saw in your mind's vision was on my table. God bless you!'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

'THE ONEIDA COMMUNITY.'

By ALLAN ESTLAKE.

2s. 6d. NET.

POST FREE, 2s. 9d.

THIS little brochure is a preliminary sketch of the Communistic society which, in anthropological interest, transcends all others that history tells of. In it alone the doctrines of Plato's 'Republic' were fully put into practice. For while, in such organisations as the Shakers and the Amana Community—to instance the most successful among a host of examples—the financial solidarity or collectivism which communism involves, has been illustrated on a moderately large scale, in the Oneida Community alone was this solidarity applied in the more private domain of the family affections.

The author promises, conditionally, a much more voluminous and authoritative treatise on the Oneida Community, and it is evident from the present brochure that much remains to be cleared up. The 'Weltanschauung' of the Perfectionists, and the marvellous extent to which it can be harmonised with scientific research, with modern Scriptural exegesis, and with Hegelian dialectics, merit a much more elaborate treatment.

VIBRATION THE LAW OF LIFE.

By W. H. WILLIAMS. Cloth, 4s. 6d.

A system of vital gymnastics, with practical exercises in harmonic singing and movement.

The new thought has passed beyond the stage when vague and daring generalities can be accepted as sufficient statement. We must be practical, especially in instruction, and its methods must be simply and clearly stated. The present work is practical. It gives hints for the realization of the oneness of soul and body, and of monious development on both the spiritual and physical planes, in language easily understood. The importance of the book can hardly be over-estimated.

MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Please keep me in your mind all the time I am away; your power has saved me twice from committing a great error in business matters; had I written the letter you warned me not to, I should have been poorer to-day by £3,000. God bless you!—Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—To hear from a stranger such loving words of guidance and sympathy so took me by surprise that I forgot to thank you for the use you made of your wonderful gift in giving me just the help I needed. I am so much happier, and now see the rocks I might have been shattered upon. My eyes seem to have been closed till now.—Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Friend,—It was as you said it would be when I got home; the matter blew over; there was "no law," as you so wonderfully predicted, and the letter you saw in your mind's vision was on my table. God bless you!'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

Gwinn and Clegg and Mrs. Clegg spoke very earnestly, showing what could be done by those who live up to their Spiritualism and unite to promote its spread.—M.C.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—A large audience were deeply interested in the discourse delivered at these rooms on Sunday last by Mr. J. J. Morse. The subject—'Modern Spiritualism: Destroyer and Builder'—did not in itself suggest the opening up, to any special extent, of new avenues of thought; but the lecturer, with consummate ability, treated his theme in such a fresh and brilliant manner that his flow of eloquence, reason, and logic will not readily be forgotten, the inquirers present being profoundly impressed. The lecturer received every token of high appreciation throughout his discourse. Prior to his discourse Mr. Morse read a poem by J. G. Clarke, entitled 'The Voice of the People,' and this, with the singing by the Marylebone Association of Spiritualists' Choir of Mr. W. Afield's beautiful hymn, 'Welcome, Loving Spirits,' was much valued. Miss Ethel Home also added much to the success of the evening by her sweet rendering of the solo by Sir A. Sullivan entitled 'Love not the World.' Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Miss MacCreadie, clairvoyance.—L. H.

BOOTLE.—On Sunday last the Bootle Society held their opening services at the Reform Club, Stanley Hall, Stanley-road, when the resident speaker, Mr. G. H. Bibbings, addressed two very fair audiences. Mr. S. S. Chiswell, conductor of the Liverpool Lyceum, No. 1, presided, and, in addition to the speaker, was supported by Messrs. Henry Watts and Anderson, late of the Liverpool Society, and by Messrs. Norton, Owen, Thomson and Parr, of the Bootle Society. The evening address by Mr. Bibbings, 'Spiritualism calls its Witnesses, including General Booth and the Rev. Dr. Parker,' was a masterpiece of sound reasoning and logic, and repeatedly called forth the applause of the audience, until Mr. Bibbings asked them to desist in order that they might not miss the force of his evidence and arguments. He called in support of his case such diverse authorities as Canon Faucit, Father Clark, the 'Rock,' the 'Pall Mall Gazette,' and 'Daily Mail' newspapers, Dr. Hodgson, Sir William Crookes, and Dr. Alfred R. Wallace, and concluded with a masterly peroration, in which he introduced Humboldt's well-known phrase: 'Wise men investigate and then decide; fools decide.' The services in every respect were records, the attendance at the Lyceum and services being the largest, as likewise were the collections, in the history of the society.—J. J. P.

SAMBOR, THE RUSSIAN MEDIUM.—In last week's 'LIGHT' we reported the occurrence of some striking phenomena in the presence of this medium as described by M. Petrov-Solovovo in the 'Annales des Sciences Psychiques.' The 'Westminster Gazette,' of Tuesday last, supplied some further particulars, from which it appears that with Sambor, the 'passage of matter through matter,' by the tying of knots in endless cords, under the strictest test conditions, is a phenomenon of very frequent occurrence. We shall no doubt hear more of this remarkable medium.

'THE LYCEUM BANNER' AND 'SPIRITUAL REVIEW.'—The March issue of Mr. J. J. Morse's useful monthly contains much matter that is helpful, and a good deal that supplies food for thought of a serious kind, especially to those who are interested in the relations between societies and Lyceums. The appearance of the 'Spiritual Review' at an early date as an 'independent high-class monthly magazine' may be expected, and full particulars are to be shortly announced. There is room for such a venture just now, and we trust Mr. Morse's effort in this direction will fill the 'long-felt want' and be eminently successful. The present issue contains a reprint from 'LIGHT,' with due acknowledgment, of Mr. Hopps' recent address to the London Spiritualist Alliance on Dr. Garth Wilkinson's 'Improvisations from the Spirit,' and an abridged report of Colonel Ingersoll's address, through Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond, on 'How it seems to be thought dead.'

TO SECRETARIES OF SPIRITUALISTIC SOCIETIES.

Will those Societies having copies of 'Twenty Photographs of the Risen Dead' on 'sale or return,' be kind enough to communicate the result of sales up to the present time to T. S. Wilmot, West Hill House, Brannpton, North Devon?

'THE ONEIDA COMMUNITY.'

BY ALLAN ESTLAKE.

2s. 6d. NET.

POST FREE, 2s. 9d.

THIS little brochure is a preliminary sketch of the Communistic society which, in anthropological interest, transcends all others that history tells of. In it alone the doctrines of Plato's 'Republic' were fully put into practice. For while, in such organisations as the Shakers and the Amana Community—to instance the most successful among a host of examples—the financial solidarity or collectivism which communism involves, has been illustrated on a moderately large scale, in the Oneida Community alone was this solidarity applied in the more private domain of the family affections.

The author promises, conditionally, a much more voluminous and authoritative treatise on the Oneida Community, and it is evident from the present brochure that much remains to be cleared up. The 'Weltanschauung' of the Perfectionists, and the marvellous extent to which it can be harmonised with scientific research, with modern Scriptural exegesis, and with Hegelian dialectics, merit a much more elaborate treatment.

MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Please keep me in your mind all the time I am away; your power has saved me twice from committing a great error in business matters; had I written the letter you warned me not to, I should have been poorer to-day by £2,000. God bless you!—Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Friend,—It was as you said it would be when I got home; the matter blew over; there was "no law," as you so wonderfully predicted, and the letter you saw in your mind's vision was on my table. God bless you!'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last Mr. J. A. White gave an address upon 'Spiritualism in all Lands,' and showed that Spiritualism was contemporaneous with man and characteristic of all races and climes. A number of recognised clairvoyant delineations followed. Miss Johnston sang 'Once Again,' and Miss Nellie Atkinson 'A May Morning,' and both were highly appreciated by quite a full audience. On Sunday next, March 18th, at 7 p.m., the gifted medium, Madame Montague, from California, will occupy our platform and a crowded hall is anticipated (see advertisement).—Miss JOHNSTON, Cor. Sec., 81, Dunsinure-road, N.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW-ROAD, S.E.—On Sunday last, the large audiences at our morning and evening services were a gratifying feature of our work. The speaker discoursed in a scientific and eloquent manner, yet with a simplicity that must have appealed to everyone, stimulating them to cultivate their spiritual gifts, which should be used to the glory of God and the upliftment of man. A deep sense of gratitude to this guide pervaded the meeting. On Sunday morning next, at eleven o'clock, strangers will have an excellent opportunity of asking questions relating to the above address; doors closed at 11.15 prompt. At 6.30 p.m., Mr. W. E. Long's guide will deliver an address upon 'The Day of Judgment.'—J.C.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—It was most pleasing and natural to hear several of the people to whom the guides of Miss MacCreddie gave clairvoyant descriptions at these rooms, on Sunday last, say 'my sister,' 'my mother,' 'my brother,' as the case was, for such spontaneous recognition showed how fully the spirit people were remembered. Of the twenty-four descriptions given nineteen were recognised, and the interested attention of the crowded audience was well sustained throughout. This meeting was most successful in every way, the singing by the Marylebone Association of Spiritualists choir of 'Where are the Angels?' in which the solo part was rendered by Miss Bessie Cooper in a truly finished and musical manner, adding to the completeness of the service. Mr. Cooper's reading from 'Spirit Teachings' was also of much service. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. E. W. Wallis, 'Man: His Origin, Nature and Position.' Doors open at 6.30 p.m.—L.H.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, BATTERSEA PARK-ROAD.—On Sunday last, Mr. King gave a splendid lecture on 'The Rationale of Clairvoyance.' After clearly explaining what clairvoyance is, he gave very useful information as to the best means of developing this gift. Seeing that there is no greater boon than the knowledge that death is but transition, the prize is surely worth a little sacrifice; questions followed this most interesting lecture. There was a good discussion in the morning, when Mr. R. Boddington opened upon the subject of his address on Sunday, March 4th. On Saturday, March 10th, we welcomed about thirty visitors from the Martin-street Society, Stratford, who performed their cantata at our church. The tableau and dresses were most effective. Mr. Renfree, the composer, most ably portrays the leading tenets of Spiritualism by his pictorial illustrations. Battersea friends have much pleasure in recommending our Stratford co-workers to other societies. On Sunday next, at 11.30 a.m., a debate will take place between Mr. H. Boddington and Mr. Imison, junr.; at 3 p.m., Lyceum; at 7 p.m., Mrs. Bell-Lewis will deliver an address. On Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope meeting; at 8 p.m., Mr. Dommen will give phrenological readings, admission free. On Thursday, at 8 p.m., a public circle will be held. On Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., a social evening will be spent by members and friends.—YULE.

MADAME ZULEIKA,

Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—Please keep me in your mind all the time I am away; your power has saved me twice from committing a great error
in business matters; had I written the letter you warned me not to, I should have been poorer to-day by £2,000. God bless you!—Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—My bosom friend came to you a week or two ago, and has written in glowing terms of her interview.'

'Dear Madame Zuleika,—To hear from a stranger such loving words of guidance and sympathy so took me by surprise that I forgot to thank you for the use you made of your wonderful gift in giving me just the help I needed. I am so much happier, and now see the rocks I might have been shattered upon. My eyes seem to have been closed till now.—
Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Friend,—It was as you said it would be when I got home; the matter blew over; there was "no law," as you so wonderfully predicted, and the letter you saw in your mind's vision was on my table. God bless you!'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

'Dear Mr. Wilde, London, May 19th, 1899.

'I've a tribute to offer to your skill as an astrologer. You predicted a rise for me in May; I accepted your statement, of course, but I'll be shot if I thought it could possibly come true. I didn't see where I could obtain betterment, or where it was likely to come from. Well, come it has, and from a quarter I least expected. Wherefore I take off my hat to you as Rudyard Kipling says. ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

LONDON SPIRITUALISTS' UNION.—On Friday, March 30th, at 7.30 p.m., a social meeting will be held at Ashburton-road, opposite Paragon Works, Ford's Park-road, Canning Town—4d each. On Sunday morning, April 1st, weather permitting, an open-air meeting will be held at the corner of Beckton-road, Barking-road, Canning Town, at 11.30 a.m.; at 3 p.m., the first general meeting of the Union will be held at Ashburton-road, Canning Town, and officers will be elected for the coming year. Will all societies intending to join the Union kindly do so at once? Spiritualists who wish to become members can do so by sending the fee to Mr. Clegg, at 29, Ramsay-road, Forest Gate, E. Tea will be provided by the Ashburton-road friends, at 6d. each. At night several speakers will occupy the platform.—M. CLEGG, Sec.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last we had the privilege of welcoming Madame Montague and listening to her wonderful replies to about forty questions, which were dealt with in a remarkably spontaneous and instructive manner. Twenty psychometrical delineations were given, and many responses to mental questions, in every case apparently to the entire satisfaction of the recipients. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity by a delighted audience. On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., Mrs. M. H. Wallis will give an address upon 'Some Social States in Spirit Life,' and clairvoyance, and on Sunday, April 1st, Mr. E. W. Wallis will reply to written questions. Friends come early. See advt.—MISS JOHNSON, Sec.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, BATTERSEA PARK-ROAD.—In the absence of Mrs. Lewis last Sunday, Mr. Fielder and Mr. H. Boddington spoke upon 'The Power of Thought,' emphasising the influence that our minds exert over our bodies, and our thoughts have upon those around us, for we can influence others for good or ill, as thought is the most powerful power in the world. Mrs. Gould gave a solo entitled 'An Evensong.' Mr. Imison presided over a most enjoyable meeting. On Sunday next, at 11.30 a.m., a public discussion will be held; at 3 p.m., the Lyceum will meet; at 7 p.m., Mr. G. Taylor Gwinn will deliver an address. On Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope meeting. On Thursday, at 8 for 8.30 p.m., a public circle will be held; and on Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., a social evening meeting.—YULE.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, NORTHUMBERLAND HALL.—On Sunday, March 11th, and again on Monday, the 12th, Mrs. Green, of Manchester, gave inspiring addresses, and her evidences of the clairvoyant gift were most convincing and converting in several cases. About a dozen descriptions of spirit friends were given at each meeting, and were all recognised. Just to give an instance, Mrs. Green told a young gentleman of the spirit of a man who, she said, had fallen off a lorry and been killed by the kick of the horse. The description was at once acknowledged, but privately the young gentleman came to Mrs. Green and stated that his scepticism had been removed. He was a medical student in his last year. While going to the hall with his companion they were talking of this accident case, and the first thing Mrs. Green did was to describe the man about whom they had been speaking, and also the nature of his injury. In a private circle Mrs. Green described the mother of a medical practitioner, in whose house we were meeting, so accurately that, although not a Spiritualist, he was quite overcome.—COR.

This Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting together persons interested in the study of Psychical or Spiritualistic Phenomena, which throw fresh light upon the nature of man, and reveal him as surviving the change of death. It also provides opportunities of investigation, and affords information by means of papers and discussions.

Rooms are occupied at the above address, where Members and Associates can meet, and where they can read the special journals and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. The reading-room is open daily to Members and Associates from 10 to 6. Social gatherings are also held from time to time, of which due notice is given.

A Circulating Library, consisting of nearly fourteen hundred works devoted to all phases of Spiritual and Psychical Research, Science, and Philosophy, is at the disposal of all Members and Associates of the Alliance, whether in town or country, to whom books can be forwarded on payment of the cost of carriage. Members are entitled to three books at a time, Associates one. A complete catalogue can be obtained, post free, for 6d., on application to Mr. B. D. Godfrey, Librarian.

The subscription of Members is fixed at a minimum rate of one guinea, and of Associates at half a guinea, per annum.

Information will be gladly afforded by the Secretary, at the Rooms 110, St. Martin's-lane, W.C.

* Subscriptions should be made payable to the Hon. Treasurer, Henry Witthall, Gravel Lane, Southwark, London, S.E., and are due on January 1st in each year.

MADAME ZULEIKA, Psychologist and Occultist,

113, NEW BOND STREET, W.,

Has the spiritual power of divination. She has hundreds of letters of gratitude from clients whom she has guided through their sorrows. Her work must not be confounded with palmistry and fortune-telling.

Following are EXTRACTS from a Few LETTERS:—

'Dear Madame Zuleika.—Please keep me in your mind all the time I am away; your power has saved me twice from committing a great error in business matters; had I written the letter you warned me not to, I should have been poorer to-day by £2,000. God bless you!—Yours gratefully, ———.'

'Dear Friend.—It was as you said it would be when I got home; the matter blew over; there was "no law," as you so wonderfully predicted, and the letter you saw in your mind's vision was on my table. God bless you!'

Originals can be seen at Madame's office.

This is a power absolutely helpful, and is not to be classed with the trifling and trickery everywhere rampant.

This Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting together persons interested in the study of Psychical or Spiritualistic Phenomena, which throw fresh light upon the nature of man, and reveal him as surviving the change of death. It also provides opportunities of investigation, and affords information by means of papers and discussions.

Rooms are occupied at the above address, where Members and Associates can meet, and where they can read the special journals and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. The reading-room is open daily to Members and Associates from 10 to 6. Social gatherings are also held from time to time, of which due notice is given.

A Circulating Library, consisting of nearly fourteen hundred works devoted to all phases of Spiritual and Psychical Research, Science, and Philosophy, is at the disposal of all Members and Associates of the Alliance, whether in town or country, to whom books can be forwarded on payment of the cost of carriage. Members are entitled to three books at a time. Associates one. A complete catalogue can be obtained, post free, for 6d., on application to Mr. B. D. Godfrey, Librarian.

The subscription of Members is fixed at a minimum rate of one guinea, and of Associates at half a guinea, per annum.

Information will be gladly afforded by the Secretary, at the Rooms, 110, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.

* Subscriptions should be made payable to the Hon. Treasurer, Henry Withall, Gravel Lane, Southwark, London, S.E., and are due on January 1st in each year.

A London Editor writes:—

'Dear Mr. Wilde, London, May 19th, 1899.

'I've a tribute to offer to your skill as an astrologer. You pre-come it has, and from a quarter I least expected. Wherefore I take TRANSITION OF MR. BEVAN HARRIS.—On Monday last, April 2nd, Mr. Bevan Harris passed to spirit life after a long illness. He was an ardent Spiritualist, and for many years strove earnestly with voice and pen to promote the spread of Spiritualism in Newcastle-on-Tyne, and latterly in Radcliffe-on-Trent.

'THE ASTROLOGICAL MAGAZINE,' published in Bellary, India, is chiefly concerned with the Hindu, or Eastern system of astrology. It is ably edited by B. Suryanarian Row, B.A., and the present is the fourth year of publication. We have received the January, February and March numbers, which contain, among other matters of interest, papers upon 'Planetary Aspects,' 'Palmistry or Samadrika,' 'The War,' and two readings of the horoscope of the Queen. The magazine is worthy of the attention of Western astrologers.

THE 'SPIRITUAL REVIEW,' conducted by Mr. J. J. Morse, is again presented as a supplement to the 'Lyceum Banner' for April, but Mr. Morse proposes to extend it in the future to some forty-eight pages of ordinary magazine size, enclosed in a handsome coloured cover, and, provided he receives a sufficient number of favourable responses to his circular and advertisements, which will shortly be issued, the first number of the new series will appear on May 12th. There is undoubtedly room for a high class monthly magazine, and we wish Mr. Morse success in his enterprising endeavours to serve the movement in this direction.

CHEIRO says: 'I have given your address to several of my friends,

'Mrs. N. thanks Mr. Wilde for letter, every word of it is true.'

A Major in the Army says:—'I wrote to you for five years' future directions in November, 1895; it has all turned out so wonderfully true.'

A London Editor writes:—

'Dear Mr. Wilde, London, May 19th, 1899.
'I've a tribute to offer to your skill as an astrologer. You predicted a rise for me in May; I accepted your statement, of course, but I'll be shot if I thought it could possibly come true. I didn't see where I could obtain betterment, or where it was likely to come from. Still,
I come it has, and from a quarter I least expected. Wherefore I take off my hat to you as Rudyard Kipling says. I consider you are wonderful.
'Yours sincerely, E. M.'

ASTROLOGICAL MAGAZINE.

ESTABLISHED 1890. EDITED BY ALAN LEO, P.A.S.

'Modern Astrology' is published on the first of each month at One Shilling monthly, and may be ordered through all booksellers, or obtained post free for 1s. 2d. from the Editorial Office, 9, Lyncroft-gardens, West Hampstead, N.W. It is the most unique and original magazine dealing with the science of the stars and human destiny ever published.

The present Volume contains a new series of SIMPLE LESSONS, explaining and illustrating Astrology WITHOUT any MATHEMATICAL CALCULATIONS, so that everyone may understand them, entitled—

'ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.'

The contents are always interesting, dealing with remarkable horoscopes, lucky and unlucky days, the value of stones, gems, talismans, and esoteric Astrology.

Occult Astrology shows what psychic gifts or latent powers you possess. It teaches the law of evolution and the growth of the Soul, and it is invaluable in the guidance and training of children.

A sample copy of the present Volume will be sent post free on receipt of six stamps, so that you may judge of its value, in which will be enclosed full particulars of Predictive Astrology.

'Dear Mr. Wilde, London, May 19th, 1899.
I've a tribute to offer to your skill as an astrologer. You predicted a rise for me in May; I accepted your statement, of course, but I'll be shot if I thought it could possibly come true. I didn't see where I could obtain betterment, or where it was likely to come from. But come it has, and from a quarter I least expected. Wherefore I take off my hat to you as Rudyard Kipling says. I consider you are wonderful.

FELIXSTOWE.—On Wednesday evening, April 4th, our hearts were warmed and our spiritual life quickened and strengthened by a visit from Mr. E. W. Wallis, who gave a trance address to a small band of earnest inquirers at 6, Gainsborough-terrace. Few of us had ever been privileged to hear such an address, and the eloquent words and uplifting truths were listened to with rapt attention. The subject was 'What has Spiritualism Revealed?' and Mr. Wallis' control afterwards answered questions in a most interesting and convincing manner. Mr. Wallis gave us great pleasure by singing 'The Mystic Veil,' and when our little band of friends dispersed, it was with feelings of deep joy that in our earth-life we can be in touch with those 'behind the veil,' and know what the 'communion of saints' really is.—M.S.

DEATH!!!

Does this universally dreaded word mean only the change from a physical to a psychical condition? Ah well, in any case a great and lamentable number of our heroic fellows at the front have been given an opportunity of testing the matter for themselves. Meanwhile, the whole subject of Spiritism, in its many bewildering forms, is now being exhaustively treated in the columns of

'Dear Mr. Wilde,

I've a tribute to offer to your skill as an astrologer. You pre-

I'll be shot if I thought it could possibly come true. I didn't see where I could obtain betterment, or where it was likely to come from. But come it has, and from a quarter I least expected. Therefore I take of

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WINDRIVEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Tuesday, 17th inst., Madame Montague again visited this hall, and was received with a cordial welcome. To recount the additional successes of this gifted lady would merely be to repeat with variations our former remarks as bearing upon her eminent gifts. On Sunday last, Mrs. M. Wallis delivered an impressive address to a very full attendance, on the subject 'Spiritualism the Religion of Humanity,' and showed Spiritualism to be a life-giving force, overshadowing old-time fears and dreads; enabling mankind to profit by experiences of the past and to acquire better and higher conditions for enjoyment of the future. Mrs. Wallis was mostly recognised. On Sunday next, Mr. J. A. White will give a short address, followed by clairvoyance.—Miss JOHNSON, Corresponding Secretary, 81, Dunsinore-road, N.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, BATTERSEA PARK-ROAD.—Good addresses were given on Sunday evening last by Mr. Imison and Mr. Boddington, on the subject of 'Intolerance.' Mr. Imison very justly remarked that had it not been for the tolerance with which he had listened when Spiritualism was presented to him, he would not be occupying his present position, neither would he have gained the greater light which Spiritualism brings. Mr. Boddington in his address referred to the meeting which was held on Clapham Common in the afternoon, and expressed his surprise that such a spirit of intolerance should exist to-day as was there manifested, more especially by those calling themselves Christians. Mrs. Boddington presided. On Sunday next, at 11.30 a.m., public discussion; at 3 p.m., Lyceum; at 7 p.m., Madame Montague, of California, will conduct the meeting; a few reserved seats 1s. each. On Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope; on Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., public circle; on Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., social evening.—YULE.

WOLVERHAMPTON.—After several weeks of active propaganda work undertaken by the National Federation, the friends interested in the cause have secured a little hall, and having thoroughly renovated it, announced their opening services for Sunday last. Thanks to the unsparing efforts of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Aldridge, the building has been charmingly decorated, and the additional floral decorations made everything as it should be. The Bootle Society of Spiritualists kindly lent their resident speaker, Mr. G. H. Bibbings, for the opening services, and this excellent lecturer presented the subject in a thoroughly successful manner, as the audience fully testified by their frequent outbursts of applause. Mrs. J. M. Smith, Blackpool, successfully gave clairvoyance. At the evening service the crush was very great, and the stewards, after filling every available spot, including the ante-room, yard, and lobby, were compelled very reluctantly to turn scores away. The day was a thorough success, and Wolverhampton seems to be glad to receive the Gospel of Everlasting Hope. The local press acted very fairly, and even the London 'Daily Mail' referred to the opening services.—H. W. C.

GLASGOW.—PIONEER MEDIUMS' FUND.—A new scheme, suggested by the spirit friends of Mrs. Stevenson, for carrying on spiritual propaganda, has been inaugurated in Glasgow. The plan is to raise a fund by voluntary donations when joining, and thereafter by monthly subscriptions of sixpence. All who are heartily sympathetic are invited to subscribe, but only mediums and platform workers will have any control in the management. A meeting of all subscribers, however, will be held annually, when a financial statement and review of the year's work will be laid before them. Several promising mediums are developing and being prepared for public work at Carlton Hall, 567, New City-road, Glasgow, and when these are ready an outlet for the exercise of their gifts and energies will be found in other districts. They will give their services the first six months for expenses; thereafter fees will be arranged, and when societies are not able to pay, but are subscribers to the fund, the fees will be paid out of the fund. The official appointments made are permanent, except for death, default, removal or retirement, and all who join will be required to sign a declaration pledging themselves to work faithfully for Spiritualism on the lines of this scheme. Failure to do so, or opposition to it, will entail loss of all part in the management and benefits of the fund. Though not a full exposition of the scheme, the foregoing embraces the most essential features of it. The officials are:—President and corresponding and financial secretary, James Stevenson, 934, New City-road, Glasgow; treasurer, Kemelth MacLennan, 72, Napierhall-street, Glasgow; visiting members of committee, Duncan McPherson, 32, Balmore-street, Possilpark, Glasgow; John Andrew, 84, King-street, Tradeston, Glasgow. The leading idea in the scheme is to give a larger measure of independence to the mediums in the movement, and greater control over conditions to the spirit friends, without whom there would be no Spiritualism. As the guide of one of our mediums said lately, 'The workers win'; and we are assured that this scheme for the workers will be a certain success. Already we have had a hearty and encouraging response. Donations and subscriptions will be acknowledged on official printed receipts of the Pioneer Mediums' Fund of Scotland, by the secretary.—J.S.

DEATH!!!

Does this universally dreaded word mean only the change from a physical to a psychical condition? Ah well, in any case a great and lamentable number of our heroic fellows at the front have been given an opportunity of testing the matter for themselves. Meanwhile, the whole subject of Spiritism, in its many bewildering forms, is now being exhaustively treated in the columns of

'SCIENCE SIFTINGS,'

By that very renowned Spiritualist,
W. T. STEAD.

To be obtained from all Bookstalls and Newsagents, Price ONE PENNY Weekly; or from the Publishers of 'Science Siftings,'

CHERO says: 'I have given your address to several of my friends, and in every case you have been most successful with them.'

'Mrs. N. thanks Mr. Wilde for letter, every word of it is true.'
A Major in the Army says:—'I wrote to you for five years' future directions in November, 1895; it has all turned out so wonderfully true.'

A London Editor writes:—
'Dear Mr. Wilde, London, May 19th, 1899.
'I've a tribute to offer to your skill as an astrologer. You predicted a rise for me in May; I accepted your statement, of course, but I'll be shot if I thought it could possibly come true. I didn't see where I could obtain betterment, or where it was likely to come from. Well, come it has, and from a quarter I least expected. Wherefore I take off my hat to you as Rudyard Kipling says. I consider you are wonderful.'

LEICESTER SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY, LIBERAL CLUB, LECTURE HALL.—On Sunday last Mrs. L. A. Peters gave two splendid addresses. The morning subject was 'Imprisoned Spirits,' followed by excellent clairvoyance. In the evening the address on 'New Testament Materialising Spirits' was clearly and eloquently delivered to a large and appreciative audience. Next Sunday, at 6.30 p.m., Professor Timson.—ALFRED O. WHEATLEY, Hon. Sec.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—One of the most useful and uplifting addresses that we have been privileged to hear was delivered by the inspirers of Mr. E. W. Wallis at these rooms last Sunday. 'Man: His After-Death States and Destiny' formed the theme discoursed upon—the third of a series concerning man—and the broad, catholic nature of the teachings of Spiritualism was strikingly and beautifully elucidated. To attempt to give any good idea of the nature of the address by quotations that would come within the scope of this report, would, we feel, be futile. So the above bare record must suffice. Prior to the address Mr. Wallis read a poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox entitled 'The Creed to Be,' and Miss Edith Brinkley sang a solo ('Sleep my Darling'), both these efforts meeting with hearty evidences of appreciation. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. Alfred Peters, clairvoyance. Doors open at 6.30 o'clock.—L. H.

LESSONS IN CHROMOSCOPY.

(BY CORRESPONDENCE.)

After many years of careful investigation and well-tested experiments,

... SPHAERA ...

(Discoverer and Professor of Chromoscopy)

has decided to teach his system to certain students in the occult.

SYLLABUS OF SECTION (A).

Lessons 1, 2 and 3.

Fee—One Guinea.

SUBJECTS—Association of Colours with Appropriate Astrological Signs; Characteristics, Circumstances and Striking Events, as indicated by different COLOURS; Seven Leading Questions; Association of NUMBERS with COLOURS, enabling Student to Delineate CHARACTER from same; Anticipatory Suggestions. Series of TEST EXPERIMENTS.

Subsequent NINE LESSONS, necessary to complete the course, absolutely depend upon the THOROUGH MASTERY of Section (A.), and the detailed Syllabus of these are given only to actual Chromoscopy Students. The taking of these Lessons is quite optional, and the Fees are graduated according to the aptitude of the Student for Psychic and Occult Studies.

Cheques and P.O.'s to be made payable to Wm. Heald, and must be crossed. Acknowledgment and receipt by return of post.

N.B.—The most successful students will eventually be chosen to form a STAFF OF WORKERS to deal with CHARTS and TEST FORMS more promptly than at present is possible, as SPHAERA alone answers Questions gives Verbal Delineations, and writes out CHROMO-BIOGRAPHS from CHROMOSCOPY.

Until subsequent notice be given in 'LIGHT,' Sphaera requests readers to keep back filled-in charts, as he must forward responses to the many already in hand before considering others. Can only undertake to give brief replies to direct questions in the meantime.

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal Character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

LESSONS IN CHROMOSCOPY.

(BY CORRESPONDENCE.)

After many years of careful investigation and well-tested experiments,

... SPHAERA ...

(Discoverer and Professor of Chromoscopy)

has decided to teach his system to certain students in the occult.

SYLLABUS OF SECTION (A).

Lessons 1, 2 and 3.

Fee—One Guinea.

SUBJECTS—Association of Colours with Appropriate Astrological Signs; Characteristics, Circumstances and Striking Events, as indicated by different COLOURS; Seven Leading Questions; Association of NUMBERS with COLOURS, enabling Student to Delineate CHARACTER from same; Anticipatory Suggestions. Series of TEST EXPERIMENTS.

Subsequent NINE LESSONS, necessary to complete the course, absolutely depend upon the THOROUGH MASTERY of Section (A.), and the detailed Syllabus of these are given only to actual Chromoscopy Students. The taking of these Lessons is quite optional, and the Fees are graduated according to the aptitude of the Student for Psychic and Occult Studies.

Cheques and P.O.'s to be made payable to Wm. Heald, and must be crossed. Acknowledgment and receipt by return of post.

N.B.—The most successful students will eventually be chosen to form a STAFF OF WORKERS to deal with CHARTS and TEST FORMS more promptly than at present is possible, as SPHAERA alone Answers Questions, gives Verbal Delineations, and writes out CHROMO-BIOGRAPHS from CHROMOSCOPY.

Until subsequent notice be given in 'LIGHT,' Sphaera requests readers to keep back filled-in charts, as he must forward responses to the many already in hand before considering others. Can only undertake to give brief replies to direct questions in the meantime.

Address: 'SPHAERA,' CHROMOSCOPE HOUSE, 32, CHELTENHAM-ROAD, NORTH SHORE, BLACKPOOL.

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

LESSONS IN CHROMOSCOPY.

(BY CORRESPONDENCE.)

After many years of careful investigation and well-tested experiments,

. . . SPHAERA . . .

(Discoverer and Professor of Chromoscopy)

has decided to teach his system to certain students in the occult.

SYLLABUS OF SECTION (A).

Lessons 1, 2 and 3.

Fee—One Guinea.

SUBJECTS—Association of Colours with Appropriate Astrological Signs; Characteristics, Circumstances and Striking Events, as indicated by different COLOURS; Seven Leading Questions; Association of NUMBERS with COLOURS, enabling Student to Delineate CHARACTER from same; Anticipatory Suggestions. Series of TEST EXPERIMENTS.

Subsequent NINE LESSONS, necessary to complete the course, absolutely depend upon the THOROUGH MASTERY of Section (A.), and the detailed Syllabus of these are given only to actual Chromoscopy Students. Cheques and P.O.'s to be made payable to Wm. Heald, and must be crossed. Acknowledgment and receipt by return of post.

N.B.—The most successful students will eventually be chosen to form a STAFF OF WORKERS to deal with CHARTS and TEST FORMS more promptly than at present is possible, as SPHAERA alone Answers Questions gives Verbal Delineations, and writes out CHROMO-BIOGRAPHS from CHROMOSCOPY.

Until subsequent notice be given in 'LIGHT,' Sphaera requests readers to keep back filled-in charts, as he must forward responses to the many already in hand before considering others. Can only undertake to give brief replies to direct questions in the meantime.

June 16, 1900.]

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last we had the pleasure of listening to an address by our president (Mr. Edward Whyte) on the subject of 'Pentecost.' His remarks were in his usual eloquent and pointed language, and the frequent approbation testified to the satisfaction of his hearers. Our friends are reminded that our anniversary service is dated July 22nd.

DUNDEE SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS.—Mrs. Green, of Manchester, visited us on June 6th, and her services were highly appreciated by a large audience. Mrs. Green's quiet and unassuming manner seemed at once to gain her the goodwill of the meeting, and we feel certain that the impression produced by her fine address must have a lasting effect for good. Mrs. Green's clairvoyance was eminently successful, sixteen out of seventeen descriptions being recognised. She may be sure of a warm welcome back to Dundee. We have sent a copy of Rev. H. R. Haweis' address on 'Spiritualism and Christianity' to the clergymen in Dundee and district.—JAS. MURRAY, Sec.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—On Sunday evening last Miss MacCreadie gave clairvoyant descriptions to a large audience. Mr. Boydon, the Australian visitor associated with Mr. Spriggs (who was also present), sang that fine song 'Jerusalem,' in excellent style, and after some remarks from Mr. W. T. Cooper, the vice-president, who was in the chair, Miss MacCreadie, under the control of her guide, the well-known 'Sunshine,' gave twenty-three delineations, prefacing these with some touching references to our absent friend and fellow worker, Miss Rowan Vincent. Needless to say, Miss Rowan Vincent's devoted services to the movement in the past are held in grateful memory, and she has the deep sympathy and affectionate regards of all her friends in her present state of pain and helplessness. Of 'Sunshine's' descriptions it may be said that although the sultry conditions of the hall were very unfavourable to clairvoyance, she achieved a relatively large measure of success, only some four or five descriptions being unrecognised at the time. The delineations, as usual, were marked by closeness of detail, the peculiarities of face and form, the attire, the mental characteristics, and the circumstances of transition being all enlisted to aid identification. At the close of the clairvoyance 'Sunshine' added a few remarks relative to the difficulties of the phase of clairvoyance of which she, in conjunction with her gifted medium, is so notable an exponent. Next Sunday, Mr. E. W. Wallis will give answers to questions arising out of his series of addresses, a report of one of which appeared in a recent number of 'LIGHT.'—G.

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

Price 5s.; post free, 5s. 4d.

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

G. WILDE WILL CAST YOUR HOROSCOPE.

Prefiguring health, wealth, weal or woe, the stars have in store for you.
Read the following testimony of Mr. Wilde's skill in a test horoscope, and then write to him, sending your birth-time.

Address:—G. WILDE, Occult Book Company,
6, Central-street, Halifax, Yorkshire

'108, New Bond Street, London.
CHEIRO says: 'I have given your address to several of my friends, and in every case you have been most successful with them.'

'Mrs. N. thanks Mr. Wilde for letter, every word of it is true.'

A Major in the Army says:—'I wrote to you for five years' future directions in November, 1895; it has all turned out so wonderfully true.'

A TEST HOROSCOPE.

See "Review of Reviews," May, 1900.

Mr. Stead says: 'I print Mr. Wilde's horoscope of Mr. Pearson.
It will be noticed that in nine cases out of ten Mr. Pearson thinks the astrologer was right. Mr. Wilde predicted financial success, estates, and riches for this unknown gentleman, who writes, "It looks as though this were going to come true."'

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—An impressive discourse was delivered by the inspirers of Mrs. M. H. Wallis. The many stirring remarks made, and educational teachings inculcated, were greatly appreciated. 'Can Spirit People Help Us?' formed the theme of the discourse, and most valuable advice was tendered to inquirers, needed admonition being given to those people who allow any grade of spirit person to influence mediums. Miss Samuel sang 'Consider the Lilies' most effectively, and this truly musical effort was much enjoyed. Mrs. Wallis gave some interesting clairvoyant descriptions at the close of her address, the majority of which were recognised. In the absence of Mr. W. T. Cooper, whose illness has brought forth the heart-felt sympathy of his many friends, who ever recognise his splendid work in connection with the Marylebone Association of Spiritualists, Mr. James Corp most kindly presided, earning the warm thanks of all present for so doing. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Miss MacCreddie will give clairvoyance. Doors open at 6.30 o'clock.—L. H.

NOW READY.

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

ARS VIVENDI SYSTEM.

The A.V.S. is the practical exposition of the Science and Art of Human Development.

To Invalids. Practical realisation of the main idea of the A.V. System, along with attention to details, cures disease both acute and chronic, and ensures vigorous mental and physical health. This is the real meaning of the Elixir of Life.

To Pupils. Private Lessons are given:—

(a) Course of 12 Personal Lessons.

(b) Course of 12 Correspondence Lessons. These are written specially for each pupil, the object being to supply specific instruction suitable for a particular stage of development. To start with the student sends, in strict confidence, fairly full particulars of present mental and physical standpoint, such as age, health, views on religious and social questions (enclosing photo if possible). Then are forwarded instructions for practical work for one week or more, as appears most advisable, at the end of which time the pupil reports progress. And thus till end of course.

Fees for Correspondence Course are £5 5s., payable in advance.

Fees for Personal Course, and for treatment of invalids, to be had on application.

Pupils comprise all sorts and conditions of men and women: Spiritualists, Theosophists, Occultists, Roman Catholics, Protestants, also Business and Professional men, whose main object is to make the most of the present life.

EXTRACTS FROM PUPILS' LETTERS.

Kent, September 22nd, 1898.

'Dear Sir,—After reading your "Ars Vivendi," and making several rather unsuccessful attempts to carry out its precepts, I have made up my mind to make a further effort and am thinking of moving up to town, and going in for a regular course of physical and mental training.'

The same writer, dating from the Great Western Hotel, Brompton, January 26th, 1900, says: 'Dear Mr. Lovell,—I am now making rapid progress day by day, and by working on these scientific lines it is astonishing what one can do in a short space of time. Before taking up the Ars Vivendi System, my thoughts were hopelessly confused, and any attempts from time to time to gain self-control generally ended in failure and despair, entirely owing to the want of a scientific and systematic plan of attack. Self-mastery seemed to me then an overwhelming task, and only to be successfully attempted by the few specially gifted individuals. The Ars Vivendi System is open to everyone who aims at self-control, and is a scientific and certain way of success. The weakest individual can develop his latent powers, and so far from it being an irksome task, I find the unfolding of Spiritual Power, the discovery of Truth, and the real meaning of life to be a work of the greatest pleasure and interest. Difficulties and trials lose all their sting and terrors when one is conscious of the power to overcome them. The Ars Vivendi System of development arms one with this power. It is as easy for the strong man to be strong as for the weak man to be weak. I mean to go on working until I have absolute self-mastery within and without. "Ars Vivendi" has been the turning point in my life, and the means of discovering treasures never thought of before.'

Indiana, U.S.A., June 10th, 1900.

'Lesson No. 9 has been before me for one week. I begin to see more plainly the advantages and satisfaction a more thorough understanding of these great principles would bring me. I would like very much to have a few personal lessons. I feel sure these would be of great advantage to me. What I have gained in self-control only makes me more anxious for entire self-mastery, and I am sure to gain the goal of my ambition. As my desire for knowledge gains strength, my mind and health get better.'

From a Wesleyan Minister, Ireland, June 24th, 1900.

'Dear Mr. Lovell,—It is just a month to-day since I left London, so it is time I wrote you. I am thankful that I went to see you. I do not believe that your system would ever have had the same value for me without personal instruction. I can mark progress decidedly this month, and now "feel my feet under me" as I never did before. I continue to make all the work of daily life contribute to the system of living you teach, practising decision, will, and concentration. I am attending the sittings of our Annual Conference at present, but return to — during the week. Many of my friends say they have never seen me look so well before. I am lifting up my head and expanding my chest as never before. There is so much yet to be done and learned, I know, but it is well to have even made a beginning. I do not feel the same when preaching. I am more master than ever. I shall be glad of still further instructions.'

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WINDHEDEN ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last, Mr. E. Whyte, president, addressed our meeting upon 'Spiritualism a Destroyer and a Deliverer,' and showed by strong contrasts the improvement which has taken place in pulpit teaching in recent years: a result attributable to the spread of spiritualistic truth acting as a leaven, and permeating the thoughts of the people. Miss Nellie Cope pleasingly rendered two solos, greatly to the gratification of the audience. On Sunday next, Mr. Alfred Peters, and on the 22nd inst., anniversary services.—V. R. HICKMAN, Hon. Sec.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMERWELL NEW ROAD, S.E.—On Sunday last there were very good attendances at both services. The evening's discussion upon 'After Death' proved an interesting and elevating one, the listeners showing their appreciation by earnest attention and numerous inquiries at the close of the service. Next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, a public circle will be held, when Mr. W. E. Long's guide will address those present upon 'Mediums: How made, and how to use them.' The doors will be closed at 11.15 prompt. At 3 p.m., children's Lyceum; and at 6.30 p.m., an address will be given upon 'Progress and Punishment.'—J.C.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER STREET, W.—It is pleasing to record the great success which attended the clairvoyant descriptions given at these rooms on Sunday last by Miss MacCreadie before a large audience. There was but one description which could not be remembered at the time. Convincing messages from, and characteristics of, the various spirit people helped the recipients to recognise their friends. 'Conditions' appeared most favourable, and the opportune remarks of Mr. George Spriggs, of Melbourne, who very kindly officiated as chairman, were heartily welcomed. Surely after such meetings as these the many friends of the Marylebone Association will not allow this work in Marylebone to languish for want of funds—which danger is threatened. On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., Mr. J. J. Morse, trance address—meeting to conclude by 8.30. Doors open at 6.30.—L. H.

MERTHYR BENTLY'S HALL.—On Sunday, June 24th, Mr. J. J. Morse delivered two excellent addresses. The subject in the afternoon was 'Prayer.' After referring to the popular misconception that Spiritualists were irreligious and did not believe in prayer, he dealt with the various forms and absurdity of selfish prayers. Spiritualism had thrown a flood of light on prayer; it taught that earnestness was helpful to its realisation, that to a large extent the answering of prayer was the result of telepathy or thought-transference between individuals on this earth, and that God answered prayers indirectly through the agency of ministering spirits. 'Salvation, the Old and the New,' formed the theme of the evening discourse. The doctrine of eternal damnation had been framed only in the brains of men. The history of the human race was one of progress, therefore Spiritualists believed in evolution; that each individual was personally responsible and capable of saving his own soul, by exhausting the influences of wrong doing by right-doing. Repentance and confession were all very well, but knowledge and obedience to the laws of nature would save the world from the existing evils.—'Merthyr Express.'

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal character of all persons born on any day from January, 1856, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 26th to April 26th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 26th to May 26th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 26th to June 26th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 26th to July 26th. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 26th to August 26th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 26th to Sept. 26th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 26th to Oct. 26th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 26th to Nov. 26th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 26th to Dec. 26th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 26th to Jan. 26th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 26th to Feb. 26th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 26th to March 26th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1856 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an almanac for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

CHROMOSCOPY & TELEPATHY.

A Scientific Newspaper's Suggestion.

'The best-laid scheme of telepathy is that which contemplates stimulating the various centres of the brain by means of ether radiations, in NEW MODES such as are evidenced by Hertzian waves. . . . It seems likely enough that there may be different "COLOURS" of . . . thoughts which are yet to be discovered in the X-domain of the great Prof. Huxley.'—'Science Hiftings,' p. 181, 16/6/1900.

Thus a world-wide Scientific Newspaper suggests at so late a date the actual basis of CHROMOSCOPY, or MENTAL SPECTRUM ANALYSIS.

All who are interested in Psychology, or in any phases of Mental Science, should call upon or write to SPHAERA (Discoverer and Professor of Chromoscopy), who so correlates COLOURS, THOUGHTS, INTENTIONS, and EVENTS that he is enabled to present

Marvellous Psychical Revelations

as to Character, Life, Influence of COLOURS and NUMBERS upon Years, Months, and even Days of Individual Investigators.

For Six Penny Stamps (with name in FULL, date and year of birth) —CHROMOSCOPY TEST FORMS; Instructions; Information re Lessons; Letters, 'Chromoscopy, Making, and the Flag in Pretoria,' by Sphaera; 'Chromoscopy—a New Science' being a reprint from 'Science Hiftings'; and a Brief Description of the Influence—good, bad, indifferent, or all combined—which affect, do affect, or will affect any specific year of life, will be sent post free to any address from

SPHAERA, CHROMOSCOPE HOUSE,

31, CHILTERNHAM ROAD, NORTH SHORE, BLACKPOOL, ENGLAND.

N.B.—Sphaera has, at last, been set free to get through with his Chromo-Biographs and Replies to Questions. Inquirers who have been kept waiting will now quickly be attended to, and will get some compensation for delay. Should delay have necessitated NEW QUESTIONS, please send same by post, and stamp will be returned with Sphaera's reply.

EXTRACTS FROM PUPILS' LETTERS.

Kent, September 22nd, 1900.

'Dear Sir,—After reading your "Ars Vivendi," and making several rather unsuccessful attempts to carry out its principles, I have made up my mind to make a further effort and am thinking of moving up to town, and going in for a regular course of physical and mental training.'

The same writer, writing from the Great Western Hotel, Bombay, January 26th, 1900, says: 'Dear Mr. Lovell,—I am now making rapid progress day by day, and by working on these scientific lines it is astonishing what one can do in a short space of time. Before taking up the Ars Vivendi System, my thoughts were hopelessly confused, and my attempts from time to time to gain self-control generally ended in failure and despair, entirely owing to the want of a scientific and systematic plan of attack. Self-mastery seemed to me then an overwhelming task, and only to be successfully attempted by the few specially gifted individuals. The Ars Vivendi System is open to everyone who aims at self-control, and is a scientific and certain way of success. The weakest individual can develop his latent powers, and so far from it being an irksome task, I find the unfolding of Spiritual Power, the discovery of Truth, and the real meaning of life to be a work of the greatest pleasure and interest. Difficulties and trials lose all their sting and terror when one is conscious of the power to overcome them. The Ars Vivendi System of development arms one with this power. It is as easy for the strong man to be strong as for the weak man to be weak. I mean to go on working until I have absolute self-mastery within and without.' 'Ars Vivendi' has been the turning point in my life, and the means of discovering treasures never thought of before.'

Indiana, U.S.A., June 26th, 1900.

'Lesson No. 9 has been before me for one week. I begin to see more plainly the advantages and satisfaction a more thorough understanding of these great principles would bring me. I would like very much to have a few personal lessons. I feel sure these would be of great advantage to me. What I have gained in self-control only makes me more anxious for entire self-mastery, and I am sure to gain the goal of my ambition. As my desire for knowledge gains strength, my mind and health get better.'

From a Wesleyan Minister, Ireland, June 26th, 1900.

'Dear Mr. Lovell,—It is just a month to-day since I left London, so it is time I wrote you. I am thankful that I went to see you. I do not believe that your system would ever have had the same value for me without personal instruction. I can mark progress decidedly this month, and now "feel my feet under me" as I never did before. I continue to make all the work of daily life contribute to the system of living you teach, practising decision, will, and concentration. I am attending the sittings of our Annual Conference at present, but return to — during the week. Many of my friends say they have never seen me look so well before. I am lifting up my head and expanding my chest as never before. There is so much yet to be done and learned, I know, but it is well to have even made a beginning. I do not feel the same when preaching. I am more master than ever. I shall be glad of still further instructions.'

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal Character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

CHROMOSCOPY & TELEPATHY.

A Scientific Newspaper's Suggestion.

'The best-laid scheme of telepathy is that which contemplates stimulating the various centres of the brain by means of ether radiations, in NEW MODES such as are evidenced by Röntgen waves . . . it seems likely enough that there may be different "COLOURS" of . . . thought-waves which are yet to be discovered in the X-domain of the great Prof. Röntgen.'—'Science Siftings,' p. 131, 16/6/1900.

Thus a world-wide Scientific Newspaper suggests at so late a date the actual basis of CHROMOSCOPY, or MENTAL SPECTRUM ANALYSIS.

All who are interested in Psychology, or in any phase of Mental Science, should call upon or write to SPHAERA (Discoverer and Professor of Chromoscopy), who so correlates COLOURS, THOUGHTS, INTENTIONS, and EVENTS that he is enabled to present

Marvellous Psychical Revelations

as to Character, Life, Influence of COLOURS and NUMBERS upon Years, Months, and even Days of Individual Investigators.

For Six Penny Stamps (with name in FULL, date and year of birth) —CHROMOSCOPY TEST FORMS; Instructions; Information re Lessons; Leaflet, 'Chromoscopy, Mafeking, and the Flag in Pretoria,' by Sphaera; 'Chromoscopy—a New Science,' being a reprint from 'Science Siftings'; and a Brief Description of the Influences—good, bad, indifferent, or all combined—which affect, do affect, or will affect any specific year of life, will be sent post free to any address from

SPHAERA, CHROMOSCOPE HOUSE,

32, CHELTENHAM ROAD, NORTH SHORE, BLACKPOOL, ENGLAND.

N.B.—Sphaera has, at last, been set free to get through with his Chromo-Biographs and Replies to Questions. Inquirers who have been kept waiting will now quickly be attended to, and will get some compensation for delay. Should delay have necessitated NEW QUESTIONS, please send name by post, and stamp will be returned with Sphaera's Reply.

ARS VIVENDI SYSTEM.

The A.V.S. is the practical exposition of the Science and Art of Human Development.

To Invalids. Practical realisation of the main idea of the A.V. System, along with attention to details, cures disease both acute and chronic, and ensures vigorous mental and physical health. This is the real meaning of the Elixir of Life.

To Pupils. Private Lessons are given:—

(a) Course of 12 Personal Lessons.

(b) Course of 12 Correspondence Lessons. These are written specially for each pupil, the object being to supply specific instruction suitable for a particular stage of development. To start with the student sends, in strict confidence, fairly full particulars of present mental and physical standpoint, such as age, health, views on religious and social questions (enclosing photo if possible). Then are forwarded instructions for practical work for one week or more, as appears most advisable, at the end of which time the pupil reports progress. And thus till end of course.

Fees for Correspondence Course are £5 5s., payable in advance.

Fees for Personal Course, and for treatment of invalids, to be had on application.

Pupils comprise all sorts and conditions of men and women: Spiritualists, Theosophists, Occultists, Roman Catholics, Protestants, also Business and Professional men, whose main object is to make the most of the present life.

EXTRACTS FROM PUPILS' LETTERS.

Kent, September 22nd, 1898.

'Dear Sir,—After reading your "Ars Vivendi," and making several rather unsuccessful attempts to carry out its precepts, I have made up my mind to make a further effort and am thinking of moving up to town, and going in for a regular course of physical and mental training.'

The same writer, dating from the Great Western Hotel, Bombay, January 26th, 1900, says: 'Dear Mr. Lovell.—I am now making rapid progress day by day, and by working on these scientific lines it is astonishing what one can do in a short space of time. Before taking up the Ars Vivendi System, my thoughts were hopelessly confused, and any attempts from time to time to gain self-control generally ended in failure and despair, entirely owing to the want of a scientific and systematic plan of attack. Self-mastery seemed to me then an overwhelming task, and only to be successfully attempted by the few specially gifted individuals. The Ars Vivendi System is open to everyone who aims at self-control, and is a scientific and certain way of success. The weakest individual can develop his latent powers, and so far from it being an irksome task, I find the unfolding of Spiritual Power, the discovery of Truth, and the real meaning of life to be a work of the greatest pleasure and interest. Difficulties and trials lose all their sting and terrors when one is conscious of the power to overcome them. The Ars Vivendi System of development arms one with this power. It is as easy for the strong man to be strong as for the weak man to be weak. I mean to go on working until I have absolute self-mastery within and without. "Ars Vivendi" has been the turning-point in my life, and the means of discovering treasures never thought of before.'

Indiana, U.S.A., June 10th, 1900.

'Lesson No. 9 has been before me for one week. I begin to see more plainly the advantages and satisfaction a more thorough understanding of these great principles would bring me. I would like very much to have a few personal lessons. I feel sure these would be of great advantage to me. What I have gained in self-control only makes me more anxious for entire self-mastery, and I am sure to gain the goal of my ambition. As my desire for knowledge gains strength, my mind and health get better.'

From a Wesleyan Minister, Ireland, June 24th, 1900.

'Dear Mr. Lovell.—It is just a month to-day since I left London, so it is time I wrote you. I am thankful that I went to see you. I do not believe that your system would ever have had the same value for me without personal instruction. I can mark progress decidedly this month, and now "feel my feet under me" as I never did before. I continue to make all the work of daily life contribute to the system of living you teach, practising decision, will, and concentration. I am attending the sittings of our Annual Conference at present, but return to — during the week. Many of my friends say they have never seen me look so well before. I am lifting up my head and expanding my chest as never before. There is so much yet to be done and learned, I know, but it is well to have even made a beginning. I do not feel the same when preaching. I am more master than ever. I shall be glad of still further instructions.'

ADDRESS:—65, GIRLINGTON ROAD, BRADFORD.

LEICESTER LIBERAL CLUB, TOWN HALL-SQUARE.—On Sunday last Mr. Lote, of Derby, delivered trance addresses, morning and evening, to good audiences. He was successful in giving psychometry. Mr. Lote's visit to the afternoon class was much appreciated. On Sunday next, Professor Timson will deliver addresses.—R. WIGHTMAN.

73, BECKLOW-ROAD, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.—'The Footprints of the Creator,' formed the subject of an instructive and interesting address, on Sunday last, by Mr. Horatio Hunt, followed by impromptu poems upon 'Truth,' 'Love,' and the 'Creation,' which were very beautifully rendered. On Sunday next, Mrs. Whimp will give clairvoyant descriptions.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW-ROAD, S.E.—Our morning circle was well attended and much good work was done. During the absence of our leader, Mr. W. E. Long, the duties of the evening service were discharged by several members of the church to the satisfaction of those present. Next Sunday, at 11 a.m., a public circle will be held; at 3 p.m., children's Lyceum session; and at 6.30 p.m., the usual service will be held.—J. C.

HARD TIMES AHEAD.—Are hard times coming? Mrs. Lucy A. Mallory seems to think so, judging from what she writes in 'The World's Advance-Thought.' She says: 'The very hard experiences that the world is now about to pass through will wipe out the general stagnation of thoughtlessness. Every man and woman of the least intelligence is going to think for himself or herself, as never before. The "fixed" ideas that have been clung to so long will be let go of by the compulsion that the forthcoming disintegration of old things will produce.'

TO MEET AGAIN.—The 'Newcastle Morning Mail' has recently printed 'special' articles on 'Psychic Phenomena' by a correspondent who signs himself 'Libra.' In a recent issue he quoted liberally from Rev. J. M. Savage's work, entitled, 'Life Beyond Death,' and drew attention to the wording of the lines written by the Princess of Wales to accompany the wreath, sent by the Prince and Princess of Wales to Hawarden, in memory of Mrs. Gladstone, to illustrate the prevalence of more rational and spiritual ideas regarding death:—

'It is but crossing—with a bated breath,
A white set face!—a little strip of sea,
To find the loved ones waiting on the shore,
More beautiful, more precious, than before.'

ASTROLOGY FOR ALL.

ASTROLOGY WITHOUT MATHEMATICS.

This is a work long required by all who wish to have Astrology made simple and easily understood. It gives the full individual and personal character of all persons born on any day from January, 1850, to December, 1901, and it may be used for any later or previous years.

This book can be recommended to all. It is a complete work in itself, and yet serves as an introduction to the deeper works on astrology. It is printed on good paper, contains several illustrations, and is well bound in dark green cloth. Only a limited number of copies have been printed, as it is intended to embody the work in a larger book on the subject, which is now in preparation, parts of which are being published as a supplement to 'Modern Astrology.' Order at once to prevent disappointment.

The following is a list of the contents:—Chap. I. First Steps; Astronomy. Chap. II. The Earth and the Zodiac. Chap. III. The Sun and the Zodiac. Chap. IV. The individual and personal character of the sign Aries; description of all persons born March 20th to April 20th. Chap. V. The individual and personal character of the sign Taurus; description of persons born April 20th to May 20th. Chap. VI. The individual and personal character of the sign Gemini; description of persons born May 20th to June 20th. Chap. VII. The individual and personal character of the sign Cancer; description of persons born June 21st to July 21st. Chap. VIII. The individual character, &c., of the sign Leo, and all born July 21st to August 20th. Chap. IX. The individual character, &c., of Virgo, and those born August 21st to Sept. 20th. Chap. X. The sign Libra, Sept. 21st to Oct. 20th. Chap. XI. Scorpio, Oct. 21st to Nov. 20th. Chap. XII. Sagittarius, Nov. 21st to Dec. 20th. Chap. XIII. Capricorn, Dec. 21st to Jan. 20th. Chap. XIV. Aquarius, Jan. 21st to Feb. 20th. Chap. XV. Pisces, Feb. 21st to March 20th. Chap. XVI. The nature of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. Chap. XVII. The Moon and the Zodiac; the personal description, &c., of the Moon in each one of the twelve signs. Chap. XVIII. The Solar-Lunar combinations, giving the polarity of the sun and moon in each of the 144 combinations. Chap. XIX. The lunar positions from 1850 to 1900. This chapter makes the work exceedingly valuable, saving the purchase of an ephemeris for each separate year, which would cost one shilling each, thus saving pounds. The moon's place is given accurately for noon of each day.

CHROMOSCOPY & TELEPATHY.

A Scientific Newspaper's Suggestion.

'The best-laid scheme of telepathy is that which contemplates stimulating the various centres of the brain by means of ether radiations, in NEW MODES such as are evidenced by Röntgen waves . . . it seems likely enough that there may be different "COLOURS" of . . . thought-waves which are yet to be discovered in the X-domain of the great Prof. Hertz.'—'Science Siftings,' p. 131, 16/6/1900.

Thus a world-wide Scientific Newspaper suggests at so late a date the actual basis of CHROMOSCOPY, or MENTAL SPECTRUM ANALYSIS.

All who are interested in Psychology, or in any phase of Mental Science, should call upon or write to SPHAERA (Discoverer and Professor of Chromoscopy), who so correlates COLOURS, THOUGHTS, INTENTIONS, and EVENTS that he is enabled to present

Marvellous Psychical Revelations

as to Character, Life, Influence of COLOURS and NUMBERS upon Years, Months, and even Days of Individual Investigators.

For Six Penny Stamps (with name in FULL, date and year of birth) —CHROMOSCOPY TEST FORMS; Instructions; Information re Lessons; Leaflet, 'Chromoscopy, Mafeking, and the Flag in Pretoria,' by Sphaera; 'Chromoscopy—a New Science' being a reprint from 'Science Siftings'; and a Brief Description of the Influences—good, bad, indifferent, or all combined—which affect, do affect, or will affect any specific year of life, will be sent post free to any address from

SPHAERA, CHROMOSCOPE HOUSE,

32, CHELTENHAM ROAD, NORTH SHORE, BLACKPOOL, ENGLAND.

N.B.—Sphaera has, at last, been set free to get through with his Chrono-Biographs and Replies to Questions. Inquirers who have been kept waiting will now quickly be attended to, and will get some compensation for delay. Should delay have necessitated NEW QUESTIONS, please send same by post, and stamp will be returned with Sphaera's reply.

ARS VIVENDI SYSTEM.

The A.V.S. is the practical exposition of the Science and Art of Human Development.

To Invalids. Practical realisation of the main idea of the A.V. System, along with attention to details, cures disease both acute and chronic, and ensures vigorous mental and physical health. This is the real meaning of the Elixir of Life.

To Pupils. Private Lessons are given:—

(a) Course of 12 Personal Lessons.

(b) Course of 12 Correspondence Lessons. These are written specially for each pupil, the object being to supply specific instruction suitable for a particular stage of development. To start with the student sends, in strict confidence, fairly full particulars of present mental and physical standpoint, such as age, health, views on religious and social questions (enclosing photo if possible). These are forwarded instructions for practical work for one week or more, as appears most advisable, at the end of which time the pupil reports progress. And thus till end of course.

Fees for Correspondence Course are £5 5s., payable in advance.

Fees for Personal Course, and for treatment of invalids, to be had on application.

Pupils comprise all sorts and conditions of men and women: Spiritualists, Theosophists, Occultists, Roman Catholics, Protestants, also Business and Professional men, whose main object is to make the most of the present life.

EXTRACTS FROM PUPILS' LETTERS.

Kent, September 22nd, 1898.

'Dear Sir,—After reading your "Ars Vivendi," and making several rather unsuccessful attempts to carry out its precepts, I have made up my mind to make a further effort and am thinking of moving up to town, and going in for a regular course of physical and mental training.'

The same writer, dating from the Great Western Hotel, Bombay, January 26th, 1900, says: 'Dear Mr. Lovell,—I am now making rapid progress day by day, and by working on these scientific lines it is astonishing what one can do in a short space of time. Before taking up the Ars Vivendi System, my thoughts were hopelessly confused, and any attempts from time to time to gain self-control generally ended in failure and despair, entirely owing to the want of a scientific and systematic plan of attack. Self-mastery seemed to me then an overwhelming task, and only to be successfully attempted by the few specially gifted individuals. The Ars Vivendi System is open to everyone who aims at self-control, and is a scientific and certain way of success. The weakest individual can develop his latent powers, and so far from it being an irksome task, I find the unfolding of Spiritual Power, the discovery of Truth, and the real meaning of life to be a work of the greatest pleasure and interest. Difficulties and trials lose all their sting and terrors when one is conscious of the power to overcome them. The Ars Vivendi System of development arms one with this power. It is as easy for the strong man to be strong as for the weak man to be weak. I mean to go on working until I have absolute self-mastery within and without. "Ars Vivendi" has been the turning-point in my life, and the means of discovering treasures never thought of before.'

Indiana, U.S.A., June 10th, 1900.

'Lesson No. 9 has been before me for one week. I begin to see more plainly the advantages and satisfaction a more thorough understanding of these great principles would bring me. I would like very much to have a few personal lessons. I feel sure these would be of great advantage to me. What I have gained in self-control only makes me more anxious for entire self-mastery, and I am sure to gain the goal of my ambition. As my desire for knowledge gains strength, my mind and health get better.'

From a Wesleyan Minister, Ireland, June 24th, 1900.

'Dear Mr. Lovell,—It is just a month to-day since I left London, so it is time I wrote you. I am thankful that I went to see you. I do not believe that your system would ever have had the same value for me without personal instruction. I can mark progress decidedly this month, and now "feel my feet under me" as I never did before. I continue to make all the work of daily life contribute to the system of living you teach, practising decision, will, and concentration. I am attending the sittings of our Annual Conference at present, but return to during the week. Many of my friends say they have never seen me look so well before. I am lifting up my head and expanding my chest as never before. There is so much yet to be done and learned, I know, but it is well to have even made a beginning. I do not feel the same when preaching. I am more master than ever. I shall be glad of still further instructions.'

LEICESTER LIBERAL CLUB, TOWN HALL-SQUARE.—On Sunday evening Professor Timson delivered a stirring address to a good congregation. It was the anniversary of the passing away of the late Mr. J. Bent, the president and founder of the Leicester Spiritualist Society twenty-five years ago; and Professor Timson made some kindly remarks regarding him. There was a good display of flowers sent by Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd, Miss Shepherd, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Next Sunday, Mrs. Clarke, of Nottingham, morning and evening.—R. WIGHTMAN.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOE ROOMS, KENMURE-ROAD, MARE-STREET, N.E.—Mr. D. J. Davis on Sunday evening dealt, by request, with the subject of 'Pentecostal Power' in his usual lucid manner, showing that the only explanation of such power was to be found in Spiritualism. The first summer outing will take place on Saturday, the 28th inst., when friends will meet near the Royal Forest Hotel, Chingford, at from 1.30 to 2 o'clock. The address next Sunday, at 7 p.m., will be given by Mr. Ronald Brailey; and the usual members' circle will take place at 226, Dalston-lane, on Thursday, at 8 p.m.—O. H.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW-ROAD, S.E.—The good attendance at our Sunday morning circle continues unabated despite the oppressive atmosphere. We were pleased that Mr. W. E. Long resumed his work after a necessary and beneficial vacation. At the evening service his guide gave the first of a series of three addresses. The subject was of absorbing interest and productive of good results. 'Christ in the Flesh' presented Jesus, the noble Exemplar, in all His thoroughness and goodness, His faith and spirituality, and afforded an ideal for those who would 'go about doing good.' Next Sunday, at 11 a.m., a public circle will be held; doors closed at 11.15 prompt. At 3 p.m. children's Lyceum. At 6.30 p.m. the second of the series will be delivered. Subject: 'Christ in the Spirit.'—J. C.

CARLISLE, ST. JOHN'S HALL.—We had a great treat in listening again to the inspirers of our dear sister Mrs. Ellen Green (Manchester), who gave lucid, spiritually helpful and stimulating addresses morning and evening. These were followed by very successful clairvoyant descriptions; out of twelve given only one failing to be at once recognised. The hall was crowded in the evening, and a fine feeling prevailed. The very interesting ceremony of naming the infant daughter of our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Silby, was performed by Mrs. Green before the evening address, the names of 'Enid Lillian May' being given, with the added spirit name of 'Purity.' Miss Clarke kindly favoured us with a sacred solo, 'The Beautiful Gate,' in which her pure, rich voice and cultured feeling were much admired and appreciated. Mrs. Pedersen kindly and efficiently accompanied on the organ. A highly interesting feature of this meeting was the clairvoyant experience of some of the audience—notably that of Mrs. Adams (wife of our president), who records what she saw in a letter to the Editor (given in another column).—COR.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIEBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last the above society held services in connection with their second anniversary. In the afternoon interesting addresses were delivered by Mr. Gilbertson, Mr. Thomas Brooks, Mr. L. Hewitt, and others representing various London societies. Mr. H. Belstead, the chairman, improved the occasion by one of his happy characteristic speeches. The evening meeting was a record one, both as regards numbers and enthusiasm. The venerable and esteemed Mr. Thomas Everitt presided and led off with a fine address. He was followed by our president, Mr. Edward Whyte, and we had the benefit of listening to what proved to be one of his finest efforts; which those who know him will agree is saying a great deal. Though late in the evening Mr. J. A. White (in the unavoidable absence of Miss MacCreadie, who, we regret to say, is still indisposed) gave clairvoyant descriptions with his usual success. Towards the close of the evening our president was made the recipient of a tribute of esteem which took the form of a purse of gold and a volume. It is Mr. White's wish that the funds of the society shall benefit by the contents of the purse. During the evening we had the pleasure of listening to a violin solo 'Nazareth,' by Miss Fullford. The choir sang two anthems, 'O taste and see,' and 'Ye shall dwell in the land,' both of which were much appreciated if applause counts for anything. On Sunday next Mr. Edward Whyte will give a short address, after which there will be a members' meeting.—R. V. HICKMAN, Sec.

MR. W. HOWELL AT MASONIC HALL,
BIRMINGHAM.

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY.

On Sunday morning, July 22nd, our speaker, Mr. Walter Howell, had an interesting function to fulfil in the 'naming' of an infant child whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hobson, are members of the Birmingham Spiritualist Union. Mr. Howell, in opening the ceremony, affirmed that persons who exercised their common-sense could not believe this sweet little child to be shapen in sin and iniquity, or accept the doctrine of its total depravity. Hence to those familiar with Spiritualist views it was scarcely necessary to explain that we claimed no magical change to take place converting this child from a heir of hell to a heir of heaven, through his having performed a ceremony of baptism. On the contrary, we believed that it was a child of God now, and while we did not desire to deride the baptismal rite by a pure-minded man who sought to breathe a blessing over its head, yet we recognised that it brought with it such a world of love, purity, and innocence that it was calculated to bless us infinitely more than we could bless it. Great stress was laid in the Church service upon the words of Christ, who said, 'Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.' And it was well to remember that before they had ever been baptised Jesus had said 'their angels see the face of My Father who is in heaven.' The children who are born to us come as everlasting Messiahs, to develop in us love and self-sacrifice; they are a benediction unto us, our ministering angels, carrying the light of love and purity. Appealing to his audience Mr. Howell then said, 'Let us all unite in earnest goodwill to this child in a heartfelt "God bless you," not merely that the Church or its minister shall bless it, but that all we who are assembled together may send out a loving benediction of good and kind thoughts full of hope for its future welfare.' He was not going to sprinkle cold water on the child—none of us liked cold water thrown on our hopes—although water was a beautiful emblem of purity, and a means of sanitation in mind and heart. Neither was he going to make the sign of the Cross—the child would have enough crosses to bear without his adding to the number, although he had no irreverent feelings either towards the sign of the Cross or the crescent of Mahommed. If he felt disposed to make a sign at all he should prefer to make the perfect circle indicative of existence without beginning or end. Instead of water or signs, however, he baptised her 'Phyllis Annie' with lilies over her head. We chose flowers without thorns, but God was wiser than we, for He has strewn our path in life with flowers commingled with thorns. Thorns were grievous to be felt, but had a salutary effect on our character, assisting to develop the finer traits of our nature. 'Phyllis Annie,' he said, 'I baptise thee in the name of Humanity, the angel world, and our Heavenly Father, and may these lilies be emblematical of thy life's purity and sweetness, and may thy parents be guided and helped by friends seen and unseen to train thee to sacred womanhood.' Thus ended a pleasing ceremony, performed with exceedingly good taste.

SPIRITUALISTS' NATIONAL FEDERATION.—In accordance with the resolution of the Blackpool Conference of 1899, the executive committee of the Spiritualists' National Federation would be pleased to receive applications from societies desiring the executive committee to hold its next quarterly meeting with them on Saturday, October 27th, and public meetings on Sunday (28th). Intending applicants are requested to communicate with the undersigned as speedily as possible.—W. HARRISON, General Secretary, 42, Hilary-street, Burnley.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY STREET, S.W.—The subject of Mr. Davis's address on Sunday last was 'The Mission of Spiritualism.' He said that in the past the platforms had been occupied by too much of phenomena, but to-day we seem likely to have too little of it. Mr. Adams also spoke well. Mrs. Boddington presided. Sunday, August 5th, 3 p.m., Lyceum; Battersea Park and Clapham Common at 7 p.m., by the usual workers. Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope. Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., public circle. Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., social evening.—YULE.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE ROAD, MARE STREET, N.E.—Mr. Ronald Brailey on Sunday, after giving an inspirational poem on subjects suggested by the audience, delivered a fine trance address on 'The Soul and its Progress,' especially pointing out the necessity for soul culture. This was followed by some exceedingly definite psychometry of a really spiritual nature. The first outing on Saturday was much enjoyed by the friends who attended, and on all hands the wish is expressed that the experiment may be repeated. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. H. A. Gatter will deliver a trance address. On Thursday, at 8 p.m., the usual members' circle will be held at 226, Dalston-lane.—O. H.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW ROAD, S.E.—We had an excellent meeting on Sunday morning. At the evening service Mr. W. E. Long delivered the second of his series of addresses; subject: 'Christ in the Spirit.' The effect of this enlightening discourse was apparent in the after circle, many of the members of which 'watched and prayed' with all their hearts and souls. Next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, an opportunity will be given to those who wish to question the teachers of this church and join in the public circle. Strangers are especially invited. Doors closed at 11.15 prompt. At 3 p.m. children's Lyceum, and at 6.30 p.m. the third and last of this series of addresses will be given. The subject will be 'Christ, our Comforter and Saviour.'—J. C.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WESBADEN ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Monday, July 23rd, Madame Montague again favoured the society with her presence and a great variety of questions were answered to the satisfaction of all concerned. Following this, Madame Montague was the recipient of several mental questions, which were answered either in the affirmative or negative (according to the nature of the question), together with a symbol. This meeting was very satisfactory and greatly appreciated by all. An enjoyable social evening (in spite of the hot weather) was experienced by those present on the following Tuesday, July 24th. Short speeches were given by Mr. E. W. Wallis, Mrs. M. H. Wallis, and Mrs. Boddington, in which reference was made to the feeling of the necessity of more social intercourse among Spiritualists than in the past. Mr. Spriggs related a little of his experiences in Australia, and conveyed to the meeting the good wishes of our friends across the sea. Mr. Glendinning gave a portion of his experience in spirit photography, which proved of great interest to everyone. Solos were correctly rendered by the following friends: Madame Cope, Mr. E. W. Wallis, Mrs. Boddington, and Mr. Glendinning. Refreshments (fruit, &c.) were provided throughout the evening. The proceedings were successfully brought to a close by Mr. Belstead proposing a vote of thanks to all the friends who took part in the evening's entertainment, seconded by Mr. Clegg. We very much regretted the inability of Mr. and Mrs. Everitt to attend. On Sunday last Mr. Edward Whyte gave an excellent address. The members' meeting was postponed until Sunday, August 12th. Sunday evening next, at 7 o'clock, Mr. Peters will give clairvoyance.—V. R. HICKMAN.

SOCIETY WORK.

THE FLEUR DE LYS PSYCHOLOGICAL SOCIETY, 260, MARE-STREET, HACKNEY.—The first meeting of the above society will be held on Friday next, at 8 p.m. Trance address by Mrs. Carter; a musical service, and various addresses, free to all.—F. VERMULEN McDONNELL.

73, BECKLOW-ROAD, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.—On Sunday last Mr. M. Clegg spoke at length upon 'Fear, Personal and Public,' as the chief obstacle to the freer development of our spiritual gifts, and urged his hearers to live up to their knowledge of the truth. On Sunday next Mrs. Adkins, trance medium and clairvoyante, will occupy the platform.—C.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW ROAD, S.E.—The room in which our morning circle was held was filled to its utmost capacity. The address given by Mr. W. E. Long's guide at the evening service, presented 'The Revelation' of the Bible in a spiritual light. This discourse proved of special educational value. Next Sunday morning a public circle will be held, to which strangers are specially invited. At 3 p.m., children's Lyceum; and at 6.30 p.m., we are promised an address by the leader's guide upon 'Spirits in Prison.'—J.C.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last a very instructive and interesting address was delivered by the president, who also answered questions from the audience. At the after-meeting the balance-sheet showed £11 7s. 5d. in hand on the past year's working. The following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. E. Whyte; vice-president, Mr. H. Belstead; treasurer, Mr. C. H. Potter; financial secretary, Mr. V. R. Hickman; secretary, Mr. A. Clegg; and a committee of six. On Sunday, August 19th, clairvoyance will be given by Mr. J. A. White. Sunday, August 26th, trance address, Mr. E. W. Wallis. Please address all communications to the secretary, Mr. A. Clegg, 18, Fleetwood-street, Stoke Newington, N.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, S.W.—Last Sunday the special feature of our service was the dedication of an infant to the service of humanity. After an impressive invocation from Mr. Fielder, our president's spirit guide performed the ceremony of the spiritual baptism and gave the child the spirit name 'Pearl.' In well chosen language she dealt with the duties and responsibility of parentage. She preferred to enlarge the admonition to children, 'Honour thy father and thy mother,' so that it should also read: 'Parents, honour thy children.' What the child would become largely depended upon the parents. Mrs. H. Boddington also rendered a solo, 'Only remembered by what we have done.' The father, Mr. R. Boddington, addressed the meeting, and Mr. H. Boddington, as chairman, emphasised the remarks which had been made. Our thanks are due to all who helped to make the meeting successful and particularly to the donors of flowers, which lent an added charm to the service. On Sunday next, Mr. J. Adams. Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope. The excursion being to Court Farm on Saturday, August 25th, the price of brake seats for visitors, including tea, will be, for adults 2s. 6d., children 1s. 6d.—Cor.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—There was a large gathering at these rooms on Sunday evening last, when Mr. George Spriggs, late of Melbourne (who, we venture to trust, will be 'of London' for a long time to come), delivered an address on 'Materialisation and Transfiguration,' in the course of which he narrated several remarkable occurrences in which he, as medium, participated, referring particularly to the famous 'circle' held at Cardiff in 1877, and to subsequent seances held in Melbourne. The audience were intensely interested, and again and again expressed their appreciation of the able remarks and the quiet earnestness of the speaker. Mr. Thomas Everitt presided, and, prior to the address, read St. Luke's account of the materialisation of Moses and Elias. Mrs. Wilson, a welcome visitor from the United States, sang Henry Parker's solo 'Jerusalem,' giving evidence of a musical talent which won the warm plaudits of her hearers. The audience will long remember the remarkably fine baritone voice of Mr. Luscombe, of Melbourne, who, on this occasion, sang 'The First Palm Sunday' (Faure) in magnificent style. With the recollections of such meetings as the one here recorded, the Marylebone Association of Spiritualists are encouraged in the hope that their friends and supporters will not allow the society to languish for want of funds; and that the present and imminent danger of having to abandon their work will be averted. Financial assistance is urgently needed and most earnestly requested. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. E. W. Wallis will deliver a trance discourse on 'The Word of God: Where Found and How to Read It.' Doors open at 6.30 p.m. Donations can be handed to the secretary or chairman at the meetings.—LIONEL HUNT, Hon. Sec.

36, VICARAGE-ROAD, CAMBERWELL, S.E.—In the absence of Madame Montague through indisposition, Mr. G. Cole on Sunday last delivered a most instructive address to a large and appreciative audience. 'Blue-bell's' psychometry was well recognised, and at the after circle Mrs. Holgate and Mr. Tubbs gave good clairvoyance. All being well, Madame Montague will be here on Sunday next, at 6.30.—E. REMSEY, Sec.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE ROAD, MARE STREET, N.E.—Last Sunday evening Mr. Alfred Peters addressed the meeting on 'Love' and 'Duty,' subjects suggested by members of the audience. His interesting and zealous address was well appreciated. The clairvoyance which followed was fully up to Mr. Peters' usual high standard and some remarkable tests were given, particularly to strangers. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. D. J. Davis will occupy the platform. On Thursdays, at 8.15 p.m., a circle for members only is held at 226, Dalston-lane.—O.H.

SOCIETY WORK.

STRATFORD—WORKMEN'S HALL, EAST HAM-LANE, E.—The speaker on Sunday next will be 'Evangel.'—T. M. McCallum.

THE FLEUR DE LYS PSYCHOLOGICAL SOCIETY, 260, MARE-STREET, HACKNEY.—The service on Friday evening, August 31st, was much enjoyed. The president's address was a continuation of the subject, 'The Holy Souls.' At these services there will on each occasion be a special speaker—every Friday, at 8 p.m.; free; no collection.—F. M. D.

73, BECKLOW-ROAD, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.—On Sunday last, 'What We Are Not' formed the subject of an interesting address by Mrs. Boddington, dealing with the mistaken notions of the people regarding Spiritualism. A musical solo by Mr. Fielder, and a stirring address, in which he urged his hearers to take their true position as teachers of a higher philosophy, concluded a pleasant evening. Mrs. Whimp will give clairvoyance next Sunday.—C.

THE UNION OF LONDON SPIRITUALISTS.—The monthly conference of the above Union took place on Sunday, September 2nd, at Stratford. At 11 a.m. a large open-air meeting was held in the Grove, and at 3 and 7 p.m. meetings were held in the Workman's Hall. Mr. Geo. T. Gwinn presided, and Mr. J. C. Macdonald, of the National Federation, gave addresses. Mrs. Clegg provided an excellent tea.—D. J. Davis, Sec.

LEICESTER SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY, LIBERAL CLUB LECTURE HALL.—At our annual Harvest Thanksgiving Services on Sunday last, we were favoured with two excellent and appropriate addresses upon 'Spiritual Growth,' and 'Spiritual Harvest,' by Mrs. M. H. Wallis, which were greatly appreciated by large audiences, many being unable to gain admission at the evening service. After the addresses Mrs. Wallis gave clairvoyance. Professor Timson very ably officiated as chairman. Next Sunday, at 11 a.m. and 6.30 p.m., Mr. A. V. Peters, of London, will occupy our platform.—A. O. W.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW-ROAD, S.E.—At the public circle last Sunday morning striking clairvoyance was given through the mediumship of the leader. The promise of the previous Sunday was fulfilled at our evening service, by the first of a new series of addresses upon 'Bible Mysteries.' The explanations of the various symbols and practices, supported by a reading of extracts from the Bible, helped to make the discourse one of considerable interest. Another control of the speaker—Mr. W. E. Long—afterwards gave clairvoyance of a satisfactory nature. Questions relating to the address were invited, and may be asked next Sunday, at the public circle held at 11 a.m. Early attendance is essential, as the doors are closed at 11.15 prompt. At 3 p.m. the children's school will be held; and at 6.30 p.m. Mr. W. E. Long's guide will deliver the second of this series of addresses upon 'Bible Mysteries.' Friends are reminded that 'LIGHT' may always be obtained at our bookstall.—J. C.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—There was again a large attendance on Sunday last, when Mr. J. J. Morse delivered an address entitled 'Angelhood in the Light of Spiritual Revelations.' With cogent reasoning and argument the speaker showed that angelhood was attained through progressive growth, and that the 'angels' who minister to mankind are no other than the loved ones of those on earth who by spiritual unfoldment have gained in love and wisdom. The appreciation accorded to this address was of a very hearty nature, delight being expressed on all hands that such a numerous audience had assembled and had heard so finished and so brilliant a discourse. A reading by Mr. Morse and a pleasing rendering of Florence Aylward's beautiful solo, 'Beloved, it is Morn,' by Miss Florence Morse, contributed much to the success of the meeting. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Miss MacCreddie, clairvoyance. Doors open at 6.30 p.m.—L. H.

CANTERBURY.—Mr. Alfred Peters has been doing good work in this city. About twelve months ago we invited Mr. Peters to come and give us some of his wonderful test clairvoyance and spiritualistic mediumship. Since then he has quite surpassed our expectations; and at the last two circles, held on August 31st and September 2nd, he eclipsed all that he had done before. His addresses were full of beautiful thoughts, and his normal clairvoyance was delicately and clearly expressed. When under the influence of his guide he gave some remarkable tests from friends from the other side. One test was unique; it was given to a person whom he had never seen before. Mr. Peters described a young lady who had evidently died from cold and exposure. She was not recognised at the circle, but upon inquiry it was found that a relative of the person addressed did actually die in the snow through walking in a somnambulist state. We all agree that Mr. Alfred Peters is very accurate in his statements and is a highly gifted medium.—W. T. E.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, S.W.—On Sunday last a good meeting was presided over by Mr. Adams, who said that Spiritualism seems to permeate intellectual and scientific minds more than the great bulk of humanity. Seeking for the reason why more people are not converted to Spiritualism, he maintained that it is through ignorance and prejudice, which could only be removed by personal investigation. Mr. Imison said that men refused to receive the light when Christ would have taught them, but Spiritualists need not fear to accept His teachings. Mr. Boddington remarked that light being a symbol of power, we are the ones who are in a fog when our spirit friends see us. We take with us at all times either our brightness or our mistiness. On Sunday next, at 3 p.m., Lyceum, and meetings in Battersea Park and on Clapham Common; at 7 p.m., Mr. Macdonald, of Manchester; an interesting feature in our service will be the naming of an infant. On Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope. On Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., public circle. On Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., social evening.—YULE.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—Our president's address last Sunday on the parables of 'The Lost Sheep' and 'The Prodigal Son' was a very helpful one. He showed that the symbol of the parables was like to the outworkings of the universe wherein nothing created was ever lost; that the purpose for such creation was ruled by an Infinite Intelligence, and that although man may by ignorance or folly stray from, or run counter to, the Law of God, all were destined by experience to return again to the Father. After the address, Mr. Whyte recited the poem 'Evermore.' The spirit of Mrs. Emma Hardinge Britten was clearly seen near the medium during the delivery of these soul-stirring verses. An after-experience meeting demonstrated the great benefit and help received by many from such gatherings. These experience meetings will be continued after the evening service on the first Sunday in each month. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., clairvoyance by Mr. J. A. White. If any friends hear of suitable premises for the Institute classes will they kindly communicate by letter with me!—A. CLEGG, 18, Fleetwood-road, Stoke Newington, N.

LIVERPOOL SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, DAULBY HALL.—On Saturday, August 25th, the Lyceum connected with this society held its annual picnic at Hough Green, where a most delightful day was spent by about sixty members and friends. Mr. George Spriggs, of Melbourne, added greatly to the enjoyment of the party by his genial manner. On Sunday evening, August 26th, the Lyceum anniversary service was held in Daulby Hall. Mr. Spriggs delivered a most interesting address on 'Materialisation and Transfiguration,' and also gave the prizes to the children. On Monday evening, August 27th, a reception was given at Daulby Hall, to Mr. Spriggs. The chair was taken by the president, Mr. Bolton, and a resolution of welcome was proposed by Mrs. Morgan, seconded by Mr. Clarke and supported by many friends; to which Mr. Spriggs responded. Music, songs, and recitations were followed by an interval for refreshments and conversation. Mr. Bolton, on behalf of the society, presented to Mrs. Morgan a beautiful illuminated address, as a token of its appreciation of her heroic services. Mrs. Morgan replied, and many friends spoke regarding the testimonial. Mr. W. Phillips and Mrs. Green, of Manchester, were on the platform and made bright, telling speeches.—COR.

MR. W. J. COLVILLE IN AUSTRALIA.—In a letter published in the 'Banner of Light' for August 18th, Mr. W. J. Colville reports that he is constantly busy, and holding large and successful meetings. He says: 'Though I speak quite fearlessly both in the pulpit and on the platform and give unrestrained vent to whatever inspiration comes to me, I have been formally invited by special letter to supply the vacant pulpit of the New Church in Adelaide, and it is barely possible that I may reappear before that generous and earnest society after completing a three months' engagement in Sydney, which begins with Sunday, June 24th. My services are also largely in demand in New Zealand, a country I particularly wish to visit. When first I saw Adelaide I did not feel that I should care to make my home in Australia; but I have by this time become thoroughly acclimated to the Antipodes, and it seems a dim possibility that I shall see America again, though I shall never cease to feel the same bond of psychic fellowship with numerous valued friends in great America as though the hand of destiny had pointed to my permanent residence on your hospitable shores. I receive with gratitude and peruse with intense interest the many gracious letters which come to me from valued acquaintances and co-workers of days gone by.'

A DESERVED TRIBUTE.—In the course of an interesting letter written by Mr. James Robertson to the editor of the 'Agnostic Journal,' which appeared in the issue of that paper for September 8th, Mr. Robertson paid a glowing and loving tribute to the sterling qualities and worth of Mr. John Lamont, of Liverpool. He said: 'My old nobleman, John Lamont, the most sterling and true human being I have known, has at last got promotion. He knew of this other world which, to many, is dim and far off, knew many of the people, and if there was anything real to him in this life it was the truth of spirit-communion. He had this added knowledge to that of the agnostic. A man like him, whose soul was ever seeking to walk aright, had many glimpses of Heaven here. His life had many joys, as his nature was rich, and his hand was ever open to extend kindness. He was perfectly unconscious that he was one of the genuine saints.'

This Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting together persons interested in the study of Psychical or Spiritualistic Phenomena, which throw fresh light upon the nature of man, and reveal him as surviving the change of death. It also provides opportunities of investigation, and affords information by means of papers and discussions.

Rooms are occupied at the above address, where Members and Associates can meet, and where they can read the special journals and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. The reading-room is open daily to Members and Associates from 10 to 6. Social gatherings are also held from time to time, of which due notice is given.

A Circulating Library, consisting of nearly fourteen hundred works devoted to all phases of Spiritual and Psychical Research, Science, and Philosophy, is at the disposal of all Members and Associates of the Alliance, whether in town or country, to whom books can be forwarded on payment of the cost of carriage. Members are entitled to three books at a time, Associates one. A complete catalogue can be obtained, post free, for 6d., on application to Mr. B. D. Godfrey, Librarian.

The subscription of Members is fixed at a minimum rate of one guinea, and of Associates at half a guinea, per annum.

Information will be gladly afforded by the Secretary, at the Rooms, 110, St. Martin's-lane, W.C.

* * Subscriptions should be made payable to the Hon. Treasurer, Henry Withall, Gravel Lane, Southwark, London, S.E., and are due on January 1st in each year.

Notices of all meetings will appear regularly in 'Light.'

TWO BOOKS IN ONE.

Tolstoi, a Man of Peace, by Alice B. Stockham, M.D., gives a fascinating account of her visit to the home of the great Russian. This charming narrative reveals the sweet simplicity of Tolstoi's home life, and gives minute details so dear to every home lover, which make it possible to form a true conception of the character of the Count, his accomplished wife and family. His views on absorbing topics and his philosophy of life are told and expressed by himself, while a new interpretation is given of his great works on religion and art.

The New Spirit, by Havelock Ellis, an authorised reprint, gives an insight into the social philosophies of Count Tolstoi.

'A book which will be hotly discussed, nothing if not initiative—almost revolutionary.'—Speaker.

WOLVERHAMPTON.—Mr. E. W. Wallis, on Sunday last, gave two fine addresses. That in the morning on 'The Basis and Use of Spiritualism' was thoroughly educational and inspiring. In the evening, 'Where will you go after Death?' was also grandly treated, and gave food for the audience to digest and assimilate. Mr. Wallis received the thanks of many of our people, and strangers were quite surprised at the beauty of our philosophy. Our effort made last week at the Harvest Festival services was crowned with success, and we had the satisfaction of handing over to our Hospital Fund the handsome sum of five guineas.—G. E. A.

LEICESTER SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY, LIBERAL CLUB LECTURE HALL.—On Sunday last Mrs. L. A. Peters gave two eloquent inspirational addresses, which were greatly appreciated. In the morning address on 'Higher Development,' the speaker urged the value of will power and the necessity for all to obey natural laws to secure good health. In the evening, to a crowded audience, including many strangers, she gave an appropriate address on 'Spiritualism,' the truths of which were explained in a clear and convincing manner. Excellent clairvoyance. Next Sunday, at 6.30 p.m., Mr. H. Clark (inspirational speaker).—ALFRED O. WHEATLEY, Hon. Sec.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—Mrs. M. H. Wallis delivered an eloquent address on Sunday last on 'Conversion, in the Light of Spiritualism,' clearly showing how the many influences work which cause men to change their views. Mrs. Wallis also gave five clairvoyant descriptions, four of which were at once recognised. Mr. George Spriggs, who was announced to speak here on Sunday next, has kindly postponed his visit until October 14th, and an address will be given next Sunday, at 11 a.m., by Mrs. A. L. Ballou (first appearance in London), from California. Mrs. Ballou is a lady lawyer, and one of the earliest lecturers on Spiritualism in the States. We expect a crowded audience, and shall be glad if the friends will make this lady's visit known as widely as possible. 'LIGHT,' 'Two Worlds,' and the 'Spiritual Review' on sale.—A. CLEGG, Secretary, 18, Fleetwood-street, Stoke Newington, N.

A DIFFICULT BUT NECESSARY TASK.—The wrongs done to us, the betrayal of friendship or love, will haunt us and embitter memory; there is but one remedy; call to mind the happier days of mutual trust; for their sake let forgiveness enter your heart. But to forgive is not enough, we must forget; and only love, transcendent in its grandeur, can help us to do this.—'Banner of Light.'

This Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting together persons interested in the study of Psychical or Spiritualistic Phenomena, which throw fresh light upon the nature of man, and reveal him as surviving the change of death. It also provides opportunities of investigation, and affords information by means of papers and discussions.

Rooms are occupied at the above address, where Members and Associates can meet, and where they can read the special journals and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. The reading-room is open daily to Members and Associates from 10 to 6. Social gatherings are also held from time to time, of which due notice is given.

A Circulating Library, consisting of nearly fourteen hundred works devoted to all phases of Spiritual and Psychical Research, Science, and Philosophy, is at the disposal of all Members and Associates of the Alliance, whether in town or country, to whom books can be forwarded on payment of the cost of carriage. Members are entitled to three books at a time. Associates one. A complete catalogue can be obtained, post free, for 6d., on application to Mr. B. D. Godfrey, Librarian.

BY HER SISTER, MRS. M. WILKINSON.

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—'LIGHT.'

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naiveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

THE FLEUR DE LYS SOCIETY, 260, MARE-STREET, HACKNEY. We are glad to note the increase of attendance at the Friday evening services, testifying to the interest and pleasure afforded by them: free, 8 p.m. for 8.30 p.m. Harvest Festival, October 12th.—F. V. McD.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE-ROAD, MARE-STREET, N.E.—On Wednesday, the 4th ult., a meeting was held at these rooms, when Mr. Macdonald, an able 'missioner' of the Spiritualists' National Federation, gave an address upon 'Here and Hereafter,' which was deep and truly spiritual. A vocal solo contributed by a lady friend added to the pleasure of the evening. On Sunday last, the advertised speaker being unable to fulfil the engagement, Mr. Henry Brooks very kindly, at short notice, consented to officiate. His address upon 'Spiritualism and Citizenship' was an earnest exhortation to work. A vocal solo was also ably rendered by a lady member. The thanks of the society are tendered to both these good friends. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. Ronald Brailley; Thursday, members' circle as usual.—O. H.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—'Spiritualism, the Great Good' formed the theme of a discourse from Mrs. M. H. Wallis at these rooms on Sunday last. Despite the inclement weather a large audience assembled, and the many expressions of approval and appreciation manifested throughout the address and at the close of the meeting testified to the ability of the speaker and the success of the efforts put forth in vividly portraying the teachings of Spiritualism in a manner which won the attention of Spiritualists as well as inquirers. A few clairvoyant descriptions given at the close of the address by Mrs. Wallis, although not quite so easily recognised as usual, yet proved very interesting. Miss MacCreadie presided with her accustomed grace and tact. Special thanks were accorded Miss MacCreadie, both by the audience and by Mrs. Wallis, for so kindly officiating at a moment's notice. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., Mr. J. J. Morse, trance address; doors open at 6.30 p.m.—L. H.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WISBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—On Sunday last, in the absence of Mrs. Ballou (who unfortunately did not arrive), Mr. Edward Whyte, the president, gave an eloquent address to a large audience and answered questions. Judging by the questions put many inquirers were present, and it is gratifying to know that the cause is spreading in this district. At an after-meeting Mrs. Weedemeyer gave some clairvoyant descriptions successfully. It is very much regretted if any friends were inconvenienced by the mistake which appeared in 'LIGHT' last week, that a meeting would be held at 11 a.m. At present the only meetings held in Blanche Hall are on Sunday evening at 7 p.m. Next Sunday, Mr. Alfred Peters will give clairvoyance at 7 p.m.; on Sunday, October 14th, an address will be given by Mr. George Spriggs; on Wednesday, October 17th, a social gathering and dance; on Wednesday, October 31st, Mr. J. J. Morse will deliver a trance address.—A. CLEGG, Secretary, 18, Fleetwood-street, Stoke Newington, N.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, S.W.—Good addresses were given last Sunday evening by Messrs. Fielder and Boddington and Mrs. Boddington on 'Spiritualism a Religion, Science, and Philosophy.' Mr. Fielder claimed that Spiritualism is a light to the world, and is therefore a religion. 'Old theology is passing away, and the teaching of love is taking its place.' Mr. Boddington affirmed that religion consists in what we think and feel, the life we live, and our work for humanity. It is not to be put into words, but lived. The spiritual philosophy springs from the facts which demonstrate that man lives the life hereafter that he has fitted himself for here. Mrs. Boddington remarked that there are so many sides to Spiritualism, and so many understandings, but to the question, 'Is Spiritualism a Religion?' there is but one answer; also as to whether a Church is needed to cater for the needs of suffering humanity. Mr. Adams, as chairman, contributed some interesting comments. On Sunday next, at 3 p.m., Lyceum and meetings in Battersea Park and on Clapham Common; at 7 p.m. the usual workers. On Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope. On Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., public circle; and on Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., social evening.—YULE.

This Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting together persons interested in the study of Psychical or Spiritualistic Phenomena, which throw fresh light upon the nature of man, and reveal him as surviving the change of death. It also provides opportunities of investigation, and affords information by means of papers and discussions.

Rooms are occupied at the above address, where Members and Associates can meet, and where they can read the special journals and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. The reading-room is open daily to Members and Associates from 10 to 6. Social gatherings are also held from time to time, of which due notice is given.

A Circulating Library, consisting of nearly fourteen hundred works devoted to all phases of Spiritual and Psychical Research, Science, and Philosophy, is at the disposal of all Members and Associates of the Alliance, whether in town or country, to whom books can be forwarded on payment of the cost of carriage. Members are entitled to three books at a time, Associates one. A complete catalogue can be obtained, post free, for 6d., on application to Mr. B. D. Godfrey, Librarian.

The subscription of Members is fixed at a minimum rate of one guinea, and of Associates at half a guinea, per annum.

Information will be gladly afforded by the Secretary, at the Rooms, 110, St. Martin's-lane, W.C.

* Subscriptions should be made payable to the Hon. Treasurer, Henry Withall, Gravel Lane, Southwark, London, S.E., and are due on January 1st in each year.

CHEIRO says: 'I have given your address to several of my friends, and in every case you have been most successful with them.'

'Mrs. N. thanks Mr. Wilde for letter, every word of it is true.'

Trance Clairvoyante and Inspirational Spirit Medium.

BY HER SISTER, MRS. M. WILKINSON.

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—'LIGHT.'

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naïveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

THE UNION OF LONDON SPIRITUALISTS.—A very successful conference of this union was held at Breamer Hall, Channing Town, on Sunday, when Professor Timson, of Leicester, gave three excellent addresses. Mr. George T. Winn presided.—D. J. DAVIS, Sec.

SALFORD SPIRITUAL CHURCH.—Already a year has passed since all that was mortal of Emma Hardinge Britten was returned to earth, and accordingly on Sunday last the members of the Lyceum connected with the Salford Spiritual Church, of which Mrs. Britten was the first honorary member, visited the Harpurhey Cemetery, Manchester, during the afternoon. After placing flowers upon the grave in loving memory of her whose affectionate interest in the children was constant through life, and singing some of the hymns she loved to hear, they returned to the church, where a memorial service was held. An excellent address on 'The Essentials of Spiritualism' was given through Mr. E. W. Wallis to a large gathering; and after a reference to the special nature of the occasion by the chairman, Mr. Wallis spoke feelingly of the great part which Mrs. Britten had taken in disseminating the knowledge of the principles of Spiritualism, and of the wonderful influence she had exerted over many people who first realised the truth of spirit communion when listening to her inspired utterances. He felt assured that the loving thoughts and good wishes of his hearers would go out to, and would be received and appreciated by, Mrs. Britten in her new and exalted sphere of life.

BY HER SISTER, MRS. M. WILKINSON.

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—'LIGHT.'

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naïveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

MR. AND MRS. EVERITT IN THE MIDLANDS.

Sheffield has again been favoured by a visit from those excellent veteran workers, Mr. and Mrs. Everitt. The two sances held during their visit were attended by representatives from different societies and a few select friends, including three electrical engineers. The spirit-lights were closely examined by these gentlemen, and they declared them to be fluorescent electricity of very high potentiality. The spirit friends concurring, other manifestations occurred, such as raps all over the room, and outside the room was the sound as of the tramp of many feet. Portions of Scripture were rapped out, all bearing on spiritual phenomena. Several sitters were touched by spirit hands, and a bundle of papers, &c., was lifted from under a couch and thrown with force upon the table. Then came several direct spirit voices, one of them being the writer's own father, and several others were recognised. These were followed by the guide, 'Znippy,' who engaged us in conversation for over an hour, giving us very excellent advice. But to describe in detail all that took place would occupy too much of your valuable space. I may add, however, that we have all been blessed and encouraged in our labours for the cause of truth by the visit of our dear friends, and we earnestly pray that they may both be long spared to carry on their noble work.

iii

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, MORTIMER-STREET, W.—An able and eloquent plea for the fuller realisation of the 'spiritual' life formed the basis of a useful address delivered by Mr. W. Wallis on Sunday last. 'The Spiritual Value of Health' was the title chosen, and the importance of a healthy and vigorous state of mind was earnestly insisted upon as one of the most, if not the most, needed of the factors which go to make up the means of progression for mankind. The crowded audience again and again evinced their approval and the rapt attention accorded the speaker gave fair promise that the teachings of Spiritualism, so clearly enunciated on this occasion, would dwell in the minds of the many inquirers present. Miss Samuel, although in indifferent health, very kindly consented to sing a solo ('Angel-Wings') and her musical effort was gratefully welcomed, as also was a reading by Mr. Wallis prior to the address. On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., Mr. Alfred Peters will give clairvoyance. Doors open at 6.30 p.m.—L.H.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW ROAD, S.E.—On Sunday last the morning meeting maintained the good attendance and usefulness. At the evening service the leader's guide dealt with another of the numerous 'spirit mysteries of the Bible,' viz., the prediction of the death of King Ahab, by the prophets. The speaker eloquently presented the spiritual aspect of the circumstances attending King Ahab and his subsequent death, and the conflicting statements of the prophets. The interest aroused in these addresses is unprecedented in the annals of our church. The clairvoyance by the same guide gave keen satisfaction to those who were fortunate enough to have their friends described, almost all being recognised. Next Sunday morning, at 11, a public circle will be held, strangers heartily welcomed; at 3 p.m., the children's school will be held; and at 6.30 p.m., Mr. W. E. Long's guide will continue the series of addresses upon 'Spirit Mysteries of the Bible.'—J. C.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE-ROAD, MARE-STREET, N.E.—The vice-president opened the meeting on Sunday last by reading a sermon by the Rev. J. Page Hopps, after which Mr. E. Whyte, of Stoke Newington, delivered to a large and select audience a very stirring address upon the word 'Shibboleth' (12th chapter Judges), maintaining by his eloquence and power the closest attention of his hearers. Two vocal solos by Madame Cope were justly appreciated. On Friday, 19th inst., the society held its annual general meeting, when the balance-sheet for the past six months was presented. Results on the whole were considered fairly satisfactory for a summer half-year. The officers elected for the coming year were: Mr. N. Rist, president; Mr. H. A. Gatter, vice-president; Mr. O. Hudson, secretary; Mr. H. Brooks, treasurer; Mr. C. H. Osborn, librarian; Mr. Fullforde, pianist. Next Sunday evening, at 7 p.m., an address and clairvoyance will be given by Mr. J. A. White; on Thursday, at 8.15 p.m., the members' circle will be held at 226, Dalston-lane.—O.H.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, S.W.—On Sunday evening last the subject of 'The Analysis of Psychic Gifts and Spiritualism' was ably treated by Messrs. Fielder and Boddington. Each speaker emphasised the necessity of developing spirituality with psychic gifts, also urging purity of motive, otherwise mediums will simply be mechanical instruments unless they link themselves on to the higher spiritual powers. Mrs. Boddington, presiding, endorsed the remarks made. On Sunday next, at 10.30 a.m., senior Lyceum group; at 11.30 a.m., public discussion class; at 3 p.m., Lyceum and meetings in Battersea Park and on Clapham Common (weather permitting); at 7 p.m., the usual workers; on Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope; on Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., public circle; on Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., social evening; on Sunday, November 4th, our anniversary tea and service will be held, tea at 5.30 p.m.; tickets, 6d. each, can be had of H. Boddington. Service at 7 p.m., at the close of which the annual election of officers will take place.—YULE.

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—'LIGHT.'

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naïveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

This exceedingly attractive work is now ready, and contains a fine portrait on plate paper. Handsomely bound in cloth, 290 pages, 5s. 4d. post free, from

To be obtained from the Librarian of the London Spiritualist Alliance, Ltd., 110, St. Martin's Lane, London, W.C.

SHEFFIELD PSYCHOLOGICAL INSTITUTE.—During the past week we have had with us Mr. Howes, of Blackpool. His meetings have been very successful. He is a very interesting speaker, and his psychometry is good.—W. HARDY.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WYSHADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—The president's address last Sunday on the subject 'God's Book, and How to Read It,' was characterised by a very clear expression of the futility of the idea that any book could contain all the 'Word of God.' It was further shown that the only known expression of God's word to His children was to be found in the universe, as expressed by Nature and her workings. The speaker's thoughts were very interesting, and must have caused some of his hearers to think again on the subject. On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., Mr. Alfred Peters will give clairvoyance. As our hall is invariably full on this medium's visits, early attendance is desired. Special attention is drawn to the fact that Mr. G. H. Bibbings will deliver a trance address on Wednesday, November 28th. Spiritual papers on sale here.—A. CLEGG, 18, Fleetwood-street, Stoke Newington, N.

BATTERSEA SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, HENLEY-STREET, S.W.—An interesting experience meeting was held last Sunday, when the following members related their various experiences: Mr. Rogers, Miss Doncaster, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Stebbins, and Mr. W. Boddington, Mr. Boddington giving a brief chairman's address. On Sunday next, at 10.30 a.m., senior Lyceum group; at 11.30 a.m., public discussion class; at 3 p.m., Lyceum and meetings in Battersea Park and on Clapham Common, weather permitting; at 5.30 p.m., anniversary tea, tickets 6d. each, of H. Boddington, Secretary; at 7 p.m., our anniversary service will be held, immediately at the close of which the annual election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. On Tuesday, at 6.30 p.m., Band of Hope. On Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., public circle; and on Saturday, at 8.30 p.m., social evening. On Sunday, November 11th, Mr. John C. Kenworthy will deliver addresses at 11.30 a.m. and 7 p.m., subjects, 'Spiritualism and Socialism,' and 'The Redemption of Christianity.'—V.L.E.

G. WILDE WILL CAST YOUR HOROSCOPE,

Prefiguring health, wealth, weal or woe, the stars have in store for you. Read the following testimony of Mr. Wilde's skill in a test horoscope, and then write to him, sending your birth-time.

Address:—G. WILDE, Occult Book Company, 6, Central-street, Halifax, Yorkshire.

'108, New Bond Street, London.

CHEIRO says: 'I have given your address to several of my friends, and in every case you have been most successful with them.'

'Mrs. N. thanks Mr. Wilde for letter, every word of it is true.'

A Major in the Army says:—'I wrote to you for five years' future directions in November, 1895; it has all turned out so wonderfully true.'

A TEST HOROSCOPE.

See "Review of Reviews," May, 1900.

Mr. Stead says: 'I print Mr. Wilde's horoscope of Mr. Pearson. . . It will be noticed that in nine cases out of ten Mr. Pearson thinks the astrologer was right. Mr. Wilde predicted financial success, estates, and riches for this unknown gentleman, who writes, "It looks as though this were going to come true."'

Memorial Edition.Autobiographical Sketch of the Life and Spiritual Experiences of Mrs. Emma Hardinge Britten,

Trance Clairvoyante and Inspirational Spirit Medium.

BY HER SISTER, MRS. M. WILKINSON.

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—'LIGHT.'

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naiveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

This exceedingly attractive work is now ready, and contains a fine portrait on plate paper. Handsomely bound in cloth, 290 pages, 5s. 4d. post free, from.

SOUTHAMPTON.—Crowded and enthusiastic meetings were held here by Mr. G. H. Bibbings, on October 23rd and 24th, under the auspices of the National Federation.—H.

This information reached us too late for insertion in our last week's issue. Reports should be in our hands by Tuesday morning to secure their appearance in the current number of 'LIGHT.'—ED. 'LIGHT.'

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL, NEW ROAD, S.E.—On Sunday last good work was done at our morning public circle. The attendance at the evening service was far beyond the average. Instead of a continuance of 'Bible Mysteries' a guide of the leader disappeared very ably upon 'The Unity of Man with God.' The address was thoroughly appreciated. The members of the Members' Social Union had a most successful and enjoyable evening last Saturday. Next Sunday, at 11 a.m., public circle; at 3 p.m., children's school, and at 6.30 p.m., Mr. W. E. Long's guide will deliver an address upon 'The Spirit Mysteries of the Bible.'—J. C.

Autobiographical Sketch of the Life and Spiritual Experiences of Mrs. Emma Hardinge Britten,

Trance Clairvoyante and Inspirational Spirit Medium.

BY HER SISTER, MRS. M. WILKINSON.

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—LIGHT.

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naïveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

This exceedingly attractive work is now ready, and contains a fine portrait on plate paper. Handsomely bound in cloth, 290 pages, 5s. 4d. post free, from

Office of 'Light,' 110, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.

NOW READY. Price 6d., post free.

A NEW AND COMPLETE

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY

OF THE

London Spiritualist Alliance, Ltd.

The Catalogue comprises fifty-two pages, and is valuable not merely as a list of the works in the Alliance Library, but also as a record of the chief books dealing with Psychical, Occult, and Mystical subjects. It gives the titles of upwards of 1,300 books, which are at the service of Members and Associates of the Alliance.

To be obtained from the Librarian of the London Spiritualist Alliance, Ltd., 110, St. Martin's Lane, London, W.C.

73, BECKLOW-ROAD, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.—On Sunday last Mrs. Mason gave very good clairvoyance, and urged us to practise more unselfishness towards one another—especially towards the poor. Dr. Hutchinson, from Cape Town, made a few remarks, which brought to a close a very pleasant evening. On Sunday next, the speaker will be Mr. Clegg.—C.

GROVE-LANE PSYCHOLOGICAL INSTITUTE, 36, VICARAGE-ROAD, CAMBERWELL, S.E.—On Sunday last Mrs. Holgate gave a very interesting address on 'What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?' which was appreciated by an attentive audience. Miss M. Renny sang a solo 'Abide with me,' accompanied by Mrs. Dumbleton.—H. WILLIAMS.

THE UNION OF LONDON SPIRITUALISTS.—The monthly conference was held at Well-street, Stratford, on Sunday, November 4th, when three excellent addresses were given by Mr. Timson, of Leicester, to large audiences, and it is hoped that much good will result. Mr. George T. Gwinn presided.—D. J. DAVIS, Sec.

STRATFORD ANNIVERSARY—WELL-STREET SOCIETY.—A great public meeting will be held on Monday, November 19th, at 8 p.m., at Stratford Town Hall, when a lecture will be delivered by Mr. George H. Bibbings upon 'Have we Positive and Scientific Proof of an Hereafter Life, and if so, where is that State and who are its Inhabitants?' Chairman, Mr. Edward Whyte (President Stoke Newington Society). Songs and anthem by the choir from Stoke Newington, with Mr. Alfred Clegg at the organ. Admission free, by ticket, which can be obtained of all the London Societies, and on the evening outside the hall. Collection for expenses.—R. B.

CHURCH OF THE SPIRIT, SURREY MASONIC HALL, CAMBERWELL NEW-ROAD, S.E.—The good attendances at both the morning and evening Sunday services here continue unabated. The address last Sunday evening upon 'Mysteries' (the mysteries of one's inner-self) partook of the nature of self-examination as to the motives that prompt actions whether good or evil. It was an uplifting address that most of necessity have a spiritualising effect upon those who apply such teachings to their daily lives. Next Sunday morning, at 11 a.m., a public circle will be held; strangers welcomed. At 3 p.m., children's school; at 6.30 p.m., an address by the guide of Mr. W. E. Long.—J. C.

HACKNEY SOCIETY OF SPIRITUALISTS, MANOR ROOMS, KENMURE-ROAD, MARE-STREET, N.E.—Last Sunday evening Mr. A. Peters asked the audience for a subject and taking a suggested one—'Is Prayer Necessary?'—he delivered a brief address illustrating that prayer was decidedly beneficial if not absolutely necessary. The greater part of the time was spent in giving clairvoyance and delivering messages from those departed, which Mr. Peters did well and to the general satisfaction. Two vocal solos by our kind friend Mrs. Lock added to the pleasure of the evening. On Sunday next, the vice-president, Mr. H. A. Gatter, will deliver a trance address. On Thursday, at 8.15 p.m., the members' circle will meet at 226, Dalston-lane, N.E.—O. H.

CAVENDISH ROOMS, 51, NORTIMER-STREET, W.—After making inquiries concerning several of the descriptions given by Miss MacCreddie at last Sunday's meeting, we desire to say that if human testimony is to be believed at all (and the writings of some people who deride clairvoyance seem to place human testimony very much at a discount) such evidence was given before the crowded audience on that occasion as fully established the reality of spirit return. Twenty-four descriptions were given, twenty of which were recognised at the time of giving, and two more subsequently—a statement that speaks for itself as regards the success attending our good worker's efforts, assisted as she was by her spirit helpers. Next Sunday, at 7 p.m., a commemorative service will be held at these rooms in remembrance of our arisen co-worker, Miss Rowan Vincent, when Mr. E. W. Wallis will be the speaker. For further particulars see special announcement in another part of this issue.—L. H.

STOKE NEWINGTON SPIRITUAL SOCIETY, BLANCHE HALL, 99, WIESBADEN-ROAD, STOKE NEWINGTON-ROAD (Near Alexandra Theatre).—The visit of our friend and co-worker, Mr. J. J. Morse, on Wednesday, October 31st, was a great success. It was the opinion of the friends who assembled that the effort was the finest we have heard from Mr. Morse, characterised by the clear reasoning and the flow of eloquence so well known with 'Tien.' The president's address on Sunday last was of the usual educational and uplifting character peculiar to himself. The subject dealt with was found to be too great to be disposed of in one evening, and Mr. Whyte has promised to follow this address with others dealing with the subject of 'The Creation.' On Sunday next, at 7 p.m., Mr. J. A. White will give clairvoyance. On Sunday, November 25th, 'Answers to Questions' by Mr. E. W. Wallis. On Wednesday, November 28th, trance address by Mr. Geo. H. Bibbings. On Wednesday, December 12th, at 8 p.m., address by Rev. John Page Hopps, subject: 'Are we advancing, and to what?' Spiritual papers on sale here.—A. CLEGG, 18, Fleetwood-street, Stoke Newington, N.

WOLVERHAMPTON.—The interest in the work of our church is increasing, so much so that our Christian friends have issued a leaflet denouncing us and our principles. We challenged them to debate the subject with us, and allow the public to judge of its merits and demerits, but without success. On the Monday following the issue of the leaflet, Mr. J. J. Morse dealt with 'Spiritualism at the Bar of Reason' and showed in a logical and practical manner the reasonableness of the spiritual philosophy and the beauty of its teachings. Last Sunday evening Mrs. E. Green was greeted by a full and sympathetic audience, who listened with great interest to her philosophical reasoning, and many expressed their satisfaction at the beauty of our services and the uplifting influences felt in our church. Mrs. Green's clairvoyance was, in most instances, quite unique. We have had with us Mr. Tom Cross, Mr. Chaplin, Mr. Terry, and Mrs. Clarke, all of whom have left their impress upon the thoughts and minds of our people, and we are deeply grateful for the work done in making our cause a power for good. Speaker on Sunday next, Mrs. E. Green.—A.

LIVING BY THE SPIRIT.

By HORATIO DRESSER.

'An exceedingly dainty and attractive little book that is a credit to the publishers as well as to the author. Though small, it is a model of condensation. The underlying purpose of "Living by the Spirit" is to render the spiritual nature of consciously practical utility in daily life. Void of unnecessary verbiage and technicalities, this book is an excellent treatise to place in the hands of inquirers who seek an outline presentation of the healing and other phases of the New Thought.'—Mind.

BY HER SISTER, MRS. M. WILKINSON.

‘We very cordially commend it to our readers.’—‘LIGHT.’

‘In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naïveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.’—‘Coming Day.’

OFFICE OF 'LIGHT,' 110, ST. MARTIN'S LANE, LONDON, W.C.

(Extract from a private letter.)

The work consists of a large number of messages communicated by automatic writing, and dealing with a variety of Religious, Ethical, and Social subjects of general interest. Among the subjects thus treated may be mentioned Mediumship and Spirit Control—Spheres and States of Spiritual Existence—The Spirit Creed: God, Heaven, Hell, Faith, Belief, Inspiration, Revelation—Orthodox Theology and Spirit Teaching—The Old Faith and the New—Spiritualised Christianity—Suicide and its Consequences—The Final Judgment of Souls—Capital Punishment—The Treatment of the Insane—The True Philanthropist, &c., &c., &c. The volume contains many cases of proof of the identity of communicating Spirits. The writer has connected the message by an autobiographical narrative, giving many details of personal experience.

'It is a book which I believe to be invaluable, and to contain matter specially suitable and useful for these times, when the minds of all thinking men and women are looking for a fresh development of religious truth. It seems to me that it will not only prove of value in indicating to many an earnest seeker the means of escape, for which not a few are now looking, from the agnosticism of the day; but that it will also exercise a very marked influence in disabusing the public mind of the idea that all spirit communications are trivial and worthless. This volume is, at any rate, whatever it may be else, a complete answer on that score.'

'We very cordially commend it to our readers.'—'LIGHT.'

'In her day she had wonderful experiences and did a wonderful work, the modest record of which appears in these intensely interesting pages. The story of this life, merely as a story, is as good as any novel, though its naïveté may now and then excite a smile. But beyond the story, the glimpses of the wonder-world behind remove the book altogether from the common category. A book to keep.'—'Coming Day.'

This exceedingly attractive work is now ready, and contains a fine portrait on plate paper. Handsomely bound in cloth, 290 pages, 5s. 4d. post free, from

(Extract from a private letter.)

'It is a book which I believe to be invaluable, and to contain matter specially suitable and useful for these times, when the minds of all thinking men and women are looking for a fresh development of religious truth. It seems to me that it will not only prove of value in indicating to many an earnest seeker the means of escape, for which not a few are now looking, from the agnosticism of the day; but that it will also exercise a very marked influence in disabusing the public mind of the idea that all spirit communications are trivial and worthless. This volume is, at any rate, whatever it may be else, a complete answer on that score.'

BOOKS BY HORATIO W. DRESSER.

Mr. Dresser's thought unifies the best teachings of all schools and sects. It appeals to Orthodox believers, as well as to Freethinkers, Quakers, Unitarians, scientific and philosophical students, and to those who recognise a truth in the theory of mental healing but who are wholly repelled by Christian Science. Mr. Dresser is therefore to be classified rather as an independent truth-seeker than as the follower of any sect, or the exponent of any particular doctrine. Those who wish a statement of his teaching in its simplest form are advised to begin with 'Living by the Spirit.' In 'The Power of Silence,' and 'Methods and Problems of Spiritual Healing,' the doctrine is applied to the problems of health; in 'In Search of a Soul' to the problems of psychology and self-culture; in 'Voices of Hope' to religious questions; in 'The Perfect Whole' and 'Voices of Freedom' to the problems of individuality; and in 'Education and the Philosophical Ideal' to the problems of life as related to education.

SPIRIT TEACHINGS

By Automatic or Passive Writing.

WITH A BIOGRAPHY BY CHARLTON T. SPEER AND TWO FULL-PAGE PORTRAITS.

Handsomely bound in Cloth Gilt, 32pp., demy 8vo., price 3s. 6d. nett, or post free, 3s. 10d.

OFFICE OF 'LIGHT,' 110, ST. MARTIN'S LANE, LONDON, W.C.

The work consists of a large number of messages communicated by automatic writing, and dealing with a variety of Religious, Ethical, and Social subjects of general interest. Among the subjects thus treated may be mentioned Mediumship and Spirit Control—Spheres and States of Spiritual Existence—The Spirit Creed: God, Heaven, Hell, Faith, Belief, Inspiration, Revelation—Orthodox Theology and Spirit Teaching—The Old Faith and the New—Spiritualised Christianity—Suicide and its Consequences—The Final Judgment of Souls—Capital Punishment—The Treatment of the Insane—The True Philanthropist, &c., &c., &c. The volume contains many cases of proof of the identity of communicating Spirits. The writer has connected the message by an autobiographical narrative, giving many details of personal experience.

(Extract from a private letter.)

'It is a book which I believe to be invaluable, and to contain matter specially suitable and useful for these times, when the minds of all thinking men and women are looking for a fresh development of religious truth. It seems to me that it will not only prove of value in indicating to many an earnest seeker the means of escape, for which not a few are now looking, from the agnosticism of the day; but that it will also exercise a very marked influence in disabusing the public mind of the idea that all spirit communications are trivial and worthless. This volume is, at any rate, whatever it may be else, a complete answer on that score.'

SUITABLE FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR PRESENTS.

BOOKS BY HORATIO W. DRESSER.

Mr. Dresser's thought unifies the best teachings of all schools and sects. It appeals to Orthodox believers, as well as to Freethinkers, Quakers, Unitarians, scientific and philosophical students, and to those who recognise a truth in the theory of mental healing but who are wholly repelled by Christian Science. Mr. Dresser is therefore to be classified rather as an independent truth-seeker than as the follower of any sect or the exponent of any particular doctrine. Those who wish a statement of his teaching in its simplest form are advised to begin with 'Living by the Spirit.' In 'The Power of Silence' and 'Methods and Problems of Spiritual Healing,' the doctrine is applied to the problems of health; in 'In Search of a Soul' to the problems of psychology and self-culture; in 'Voices of Hope' to religious questions; in 'The Perfect Whole' and 'Voices of Freedom' to the problems of individuality; and in 'Education and the Philosophical Ideal' to the problems of life as related to education.

SPIRIT TEACHINGS

Through the Mediumship of William Stainton Moses (M.A., Oxon).
By Automatic or Passive Writing.

WITH A BIOGRAPHY BY CHARLTON T. SPEER AND TWO FULL-PAGE PORTRAITS.

Handsomely bound in Cloth Gilt, 324pp., demy 8vo., price 3s. 6d. nett, or post free, 3s. 10d.

OFFICE OF 'LIGHT,' 110, ST. MARTIN'S LANE, LONDON, W.C.

The work consists of a large number of messages communicated by automatic writing, and dealing with a variety of Religious, Ethical, and Social subjects of general interest. Among the subjects thus treated may be mentioned Mediumship and Spirit Control—Spheres and States of Spiritual Existence—The Spirit Creed: God, Heaven, Hell, Faith, Belief, Inspiration, Revelation—Orthodox Theology and Spirit Teaching—The Old Faith and the New—Spiritualised Christianity—Suicide and its Consequences—The Final Judgment of Souls—Capital Punishment—The Treatment of the Insane—The True Philanthropist, &c., &c., &c. The volume contains many cases of proof of the identity of communicating Spirits. The writer has connected the message by an autobiographical narrative, giving many details of personal experience.

(Extract from a private letter.)

'It is a book which I believe to be invaluable, and to contain matter specially suitable and useful for these times, when the minds of all thinking men and women are looking for a fresh development of religious truth. It seems to me that it will not only prove of value in indicating to many an earnest seeker the means of escape, for which not a few are now looking, from the apocryphism of the day; but that it will also exercise a very marked influence in disabusing the public mind of the idea that all spirit communications are trivial and worthless. This volume is, at any rate, whatever it may be else, a complete answer on that score.'

This Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting together persons interested in the study of Psychical or Spiritualistic Phenomena, which throw fresh light upon the nature of man, and reveal him as surviving the change of death. It also provides opportunities of investigation, and affords information by means of papers and discussions.

Rooms are occupied at the above address, where Members and Associates can meet, and where they can read the special journals and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. The reading-room is open daily to Members and Associates from 10 to 6. Social gatherings are also held from time to time, of which due notice is given.

A Circulating Library, consisting of nearly fourteen hundred works devoted to all phases of Spiritual and Psychical Research, Science, and Philosophy, is at the disposal of all Members and Associates of the Alliance, whether in town or country, to whom books can be forwarded on payment of the cost of carriage. Members are entitled to three books at a time. Associates one. A complete catalogue can be obtained, post free, for 6d., on application to Mr. B. D. Godfrey, Librarian.

The subscription of Members is fixed at a minimum rate of one guinea, and of Associates at half a guinea, per annum.

Information will be gladly afforded by the Secretary, at the Rooms, 110, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.

* Subscriptions should be made payable to the Hon. Treasurer, Henry Withall, Gravel Lane, Southwark, London, S.E., and are due on January 1st in each year.

Notices of all meetings will appear regularly in 'Light.'

BOOKS BY HORATIO W. DRESSER.

Mr. Dresser's thought unifies the best teachings of all schools and sects. It appeals to Orthodox believers, as well as to Freethinkers, Quakers, Unitarians, scientific and philosophical students, and to those who recognise a truth in the theory of mental healing but who are wholly repelled by Christian Science. Mr. Dresser is therefore to be classified rather as an independent truth-seeker than as the follower of any sect or the exponent of any particular doctrine. Those who wish a statement of his teaching in its simplest form are advised to begin with 'Living by the Spirit.' In 'The Power of Silence' and 'Methods and Problems of Spiritual Healing' the doctrine is applied to the problems of health; in 'In Search of a Soul' to the problems of psychology and self-culture; in 'Voices of Hope' to religious questions; in 'The Perfect Whole' and 'Voices of Freedom' to the problems of individuality; and in 'Education and the Philosophical Ideal' to the problems of life as related to education.
